Message from Patron

The 21st century poses many challenges as well as opportunities. For Hong Kong to remain an international financial and business hub, we need young people who not only excel in their professions but who are able to inspire others through their vision, leadership and compassion.

We are extremely fortunate to have dedicated partners like the Hong Kong Junior Chamber at the forefront to foster youth leadership training and encourage our young people to remain closely in touch with community developments and aspirations.

I extend my warmest congratulations to all award recipients of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection 2000. I am sure that you will continue to enrich our society with your professionalism and commitment to serve, and inspire many others to follow suit.

The Hon. Mrs. Anson Chan, GBM, JP
Chief Secretary for Administration

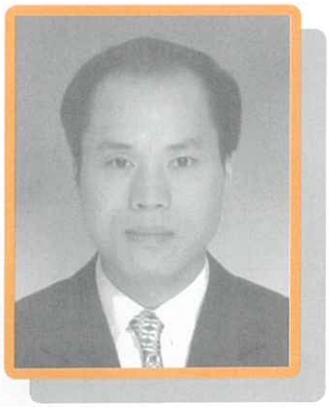

Message from Guest of Honor

From "a barren rock" with no natural resources to boast of, Hong Kong has transformed herself into a leading metropolitan city and global financial centre through the sheer efforts of her people. It has long been fully recognised, both locally and overseas, that our richest assets lie in our people, who need to be groomed and encouraged in all conceivable ways to unleash their talent. The Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection organised by the Hong Kong Junior Chamber is one of the key community events which contribute to the process of identifying, recognising and encouraging talent.

This year, I am very pleased that the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection has harvested another rich crop of talented young men and women from a wide diversity of callings and occupations. They are all outstanding role models in their respective fields for our young people to emulate. Together, they represent a wide cross-section of talent within our community who are well placed to lead Hong Kong to meet the many and varied challenges of the new millennium.

I congratulate the Hong Kong Junior Chamber for yet another successful selection, and this year's Awardees for their outstanding achievement. All of them justly deserve the honor, and may this evening's celebration provide a powerful stimulus for others to follow.

Mrs. Regina Ip, JP
Secretary for Security

Message from National President Hong Kong Junior Chamber

It is my great pleasure to congratulate all the ten awardees of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection 2000.

Hong Kong Junior Chamber, being an international leadership development organisation, purports to train young people as future leaders to enable them to serve the community. This year, we have organised over 100 community projects on key issues of Hong Kong and the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection (TOYP) is the most influential one.

Since its first selection in 1970, Hong Kong Junior Chamber has awarded 218 outstanding young persons for their remarkable contributions to their professions and to our community. The current and past awardees will continue as the role models for the younger generation, to remind and encourage the youngsters to make contribution for the betterment of our community. This echoes the mission of our organisation, "to contribute to the advancement of the global community by providing the opportunity for young people to develop their leadership skills, social responsibility, entrepreneurship and fellowship necessary to create positive change".

Taking this opportunity, I wish to thank our Selection Consultant, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu and the Panel of Judges, led by Chief Judge, Dr. The Hon. Rosanna Wong, JP, for their hard work in maintaining fairness and the very high standard throughout the selection process. We have to thank our Sole Sponsor, Shanghai Commercial Bank Ltd. for their generous sponsorship that makes this selection possible.

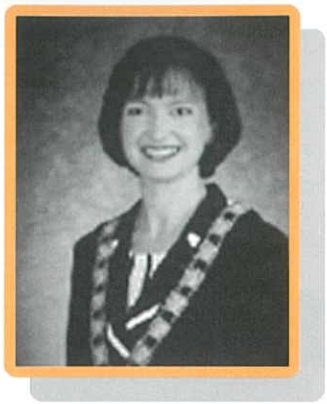

My sincere thanks go to our Patron, The Hon. Mrs. Anson Chan, GBM, JP and our Guest of Honor, Mrs. Regina Ip, JP for their support to our organisation.

Last, but not least, I have to thank TOYP Chairman Emily Au Yeung and her organising committee members for the tremendous time and efforts devoted in making this year's selection another success.

Once again, congratulations to the ten awardees and their proposers.

Spencer Li
National President

Message from World President Junior Chamber International

As Junior Chamber International President, I take great pleasure in greeting the members of Hong Kong Junior Chamber, China and I choose this opportunity to congratulate each and every one of you on the occasion of TOYP Ceremony on November 25th, 2000. Congratulations to President Spencer Li and his Board of Directors for their outstanding work, which I hope will lead to great accomplishments in the new millennium.

I am so proud of your energy and dedication to the values and ideals of Junior Chamber - you really are fine examples of "being the change we want to see, need to see, must see in the world".

I have been so impressed this year with your attitude, enthusiasm, talents and determination. You see, with every action you take, every day, every week, every month - you are making a fundamental difference to lives - to your own, to those of the people and communities you touch. And even to generations of the future. What better work can we commit to, what better goal can we dream for, and act upon.

Your attitude makes me feel extremely humble. Like you, I simply love what I do, and try to always do what I love. Love life and try to share as much of that as possible with other young people, that is how this organisation will grow. It belongs to future generations, and we must play our part in its enhancement and future well being.

You inspire me. Every minute, of every hour, every day, every week, every month this year. I am fortunate to witness every day what is being achieved with the right Junior Chamber attitude. Fortunate in seeing the significance being registered by our fine organisation, for communities and for the world.

We have the right to be members of Junior Chamber - but with that privilege, as with every privilege in life, comes responsibility. I urge you to continue to employ your energy, your enthusiasm, your vision, your creativity - dare to be different, dare to do things differently - all for the future of this organisation that we love - that brings us together from over 9,000 communities in over 120 countries - all 400,000 plus of us!

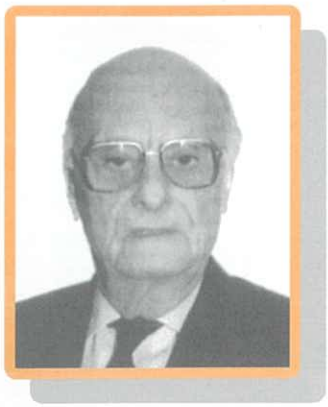

It is with pride we can call ourselves members of the finest young people's leadership network in the world.

What you do does matter, and does make a difference. Thank you for what you do - together, we will make a difference.

Please continue to challenge yourself, push yourself, open your mind and thinking to new ideas, new concepts. Discuss, innovate, create. Plan for the future, ensuring that you do not stop thinking about tomorrow, it WILL indeed soon be here, and we must plan for strong continued leadership for those years - succession.

Remember too - Your ATTITUDE WILL CONTINUE TO DETERMINE YOUR ALTITUDE - and keep being wonderful and remember to have fun!!!

Karyn Bisdee
World President

Message from Hon. Life President Hong Kong Junior Chamber

It is always a happy occasion when the community recognises the exceptional achievements of young people in any given year. It is now the time when Hong Kong applauds the success of a new selection of top young citizens.

To reach such high levels of achievement, they must have exerted themselves beyond the call of duty and developed their respective talent and special qualities above the normal at much sacrifice of time and leisure with strong self-discipline.

I offer my congratulations to them and wish them continued success in all they will do in the years ahead.

Message from The Chief Judge

Every year, the one occasion to which I look forward, is the Hong Kong Junior Chamber's selection of Outstanding Young Persons. This event is such a positive reminder, not just to me but the entire community, that Hong Kong is indeed very rich in confident, capable and talented young people.

In fact, this year we had many more applications than normal. As a result of the fine competition, we were able to choose ten winners, two more than last year. This simple fact speaks volumes about young people in Hong Kong. All the ten winners deserve our heartiest applause. They have led the way in their areas of interest and specialisation, and their accomplishments over the past year are truly worthy of special recognition and acclamation.

Each winner has shown, that in spite of busy work schedules and, very often, not enough hours in the day, that they still have time to serve the community. They are examples of how true responsibility and commitment, duty and dedication, can be manifested in a hectic, competitive 21st Century. All of us would do well to learn from these fine young people.

Given the high calibre of entries this year, I have been especially fortunate to have the assistance, wisdom and guidance of my fellow judges. They have worked very hard to fulfil their tasks and I am immensely grateful to all of them.

Finally, I would also like to place on record my sincere thanks to the Chamber. It is their hard work that continually ensures that our future leaders are given their well-deserved recognition and encouragement today.

Dr. The Hon. Rosanna Y.M. Wong, JP
Member of the Executive Council

Message from Judge

I am delighted to have had the opportunity once again to serve as a judge for the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection. This is my fourth consecutive year serving as a judge, and I am always honored to be able to participate in the selection.

The Ten Outstanding Young Persons Award is an excellent way to recognise the accomplishments of young leaders in our community, who are role models for other young people in Hong Kong. I extend my warm congratulations to the winners, whose achievements over the past years deserve special recognition. I wish them every success in their future endeavors.

Message from Judge

It is my honor to have been invited to be a judge for the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection 2000. It has been a most delightful experience meeting with young people of excellent calibre from different walks of life and talking to them about their work and aspirations.

The final choice has been difficult, and I extend my heartiest congratulations to all those who emerge as winners this year. They have excelled not only in their own fields but also in service to the community. I have been most impressed by their strength of character, their many accomplishments at a relatively young age, and their vision of what they want to achieve for themselves and for society. They fully deserve all the recognition and praise that is given them.

The selection exercise also shows beyond doubt that there is ample talent here to help build Hong Kong into a world-class metropolis in the new millennium. We need open and fair competitions of this sort to unlock the potential in our young people and to provide the necessary impetus through example. I am most appreciative of the efforts made in this direction by the Hong Kong Junior Chamber all these years. I wish them a happy 50th Anniversary and every success in their future endeavors.

Vice-Chancellor

Message from Judge

Serving for the first time as one of the judges, I was particularly impressed by the depth and quality of new ideas, initiative, energy and drive of the candidates for the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection for the first year of the new millennium. Without hesitation, we were able to select a full complement from many of the worthy contenders. The candidates all demonstrated considerable accomplishment not only in their own professional field, but also a breadth of vision and commitment to the community as a whole.

My heartiest congratulations to all the award winners, whom we hope will be shining examples to our next generation of young community leaders from all walks of life.

Mr. Andrew L.T. Sheng, SBS
Chairman

Message from Judge

Since its establishment in 1950, the Hong Kong Junior Chamber has played a vital role in developing young person's leadership skills and social responsibility. Its annual Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection is not only a signature event of the Chamber, but also the society's formal recognition of young persons with remarkable achievements.

When I look back at the thirty-year history of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection, I note that persons with disabilities and a significant number of women have been presented with this prestigious award. This clearly shows that given a supportive environment, everyone has the ability to succeed.

This year, another group of young persons are being recognised as Outstanding Young Persons. In addition to saluting them for their remarkable achievements, I would like to take this special occasion to urge them to support equal opportunities for all. I hope that as individuals who have taken full advantage of the opportunities given them that they in turn create an enabling environment to help others to achieve their goals. As leaders in their chosen fields and as role models for our youth, their efforts toward building a society without discrimination will no doubt lead to an environment of equality, excellence and enterprise.

As the proverb of King Solomon says, "Lazy hands make a man poor, but diligent hands bring wealth". Ine it is by no means mere luck or co-incidence that our Ten Outstanding Young Persons are given birth each year. Since 1970, Hong Kong Junior Chamber has been carrying out a very important role in selecting the T Outstanding Young Persons who have exceptional achievement in their respective fields as well as their contributio of personal time and efforts in serving the community. This meaningful project has since been very encouraging young persons to contribute more to the community in their life. In order to make further contributions to the comm nity of Hong Kong and serve as inspirational examples to other young people, The Outstanding Young Perso Association (TOYPA) was formed in 1977.

Besides, we have formed the Public Policy Sub-Committee to propose recommendatio to the Government or relevant authorities on matters pertaining to the welfare of Hong Kong.

Every year, newly selected awardees have either joined as the TOYPA executive committee or participated its various projects. In this coming year, we hope that we can absorb the newly selected awardees as the new blood TOYPA. Mr. Chan had been a teacher with United Christian College for nine years after graduating in Canada and had also completed a part-time study with distinction in the Faculty of Education of the Chinese University of Hong Kong. He then joined Christian Zheng Sheng Association Ltd. in 1995 as he witnessed marginal youth with potentials wasting their lives because of lack of recognition by the society. Christian Zheng Sheng College, the first and only one dedicated for young drug abusers in Asia, was thus established. There, students are loved and cared with realistic expectations. The innovative curriculum consists of academic subjects and vocational training in their self-support business operations such as computer shop, advertising company, piano shop, pizza house, and fish and dog breeding centres. His empowerment comes from the love of Jesus. It is his desire that this award will bring encouragement and recognition to those who help and are helped in the anti-drug industry. He also wants to see more schools serving marginal youths in Hong Kong in the coming decade.

Dr. Lo Yuk Ming, Dennis

Professor Dennis Lo Yuk Ming is currently the Associate Professor of Chemical Pathology at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Prof. Lo obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Cambridge and his Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery degrees from the University of Oxford. After his clinical school, he further pursued his Doctor of Philosophy degree in Pathology from Oxford. Prof. Lo is a Member of the Royal College of Physicians and a Member of the Royal College of Pathologists. Prof. Lo was previously the University Lecturer of Clinical Biochemistry at the University of Oxford and a Fellow of Green College. He was also an Honorary Consultant Chemical Pathologist at the John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford. He returned to Hong Kong in 1997 where he was appointed to his current position.

Prof. Lo has made outstanding contribution in the application of DNA technology to medical diagnosis. Since 1989, he has been researching into new methods for prenatal diagnosis. This has culminated in a breakthrough in 1997 when he discovered that an unborn baby would release its DNA into the blood plasma of the pregnant mother. This important finding opens up a new field of investigation and holds promise for a new generation of non-invasive genetic tests which are safer and more rapid than the currently available methods of prenatal testing. Since his return to Hong Kong, Prof. Lo has also been actively developing new blood tests for common cancers in Asia. In particular, he has developed a new blood test for nasopharyngeal cancer which would potentially revolutionize the diagnosis and monitoring of this important cancer.

盧醫生在DNA 測試的醫學應用有突出的貢獻。 自一九八九年，盧醫生便開始研究發展創新的產前檢測法。 在一九九七年，盧醫生發現胎兒會釋放出DNA至母親的血漿中。 這突破性的發現為醫學研究開闢了新的領域，同時也為發展新一代的非創傷性的產前檢測建立了一個基礎。 這嶄新的技術比傳統的方法，如抽羊胎水測試，更加快捷和安全。 在回港後，盧醫生更致力於發展新的癌症檢測法。 他於去年成功發展出新一代的鼻咽癌測試法；這新方法將會為鼻咽癌的檢測及監察帶來革命性的進展。

The Outstanding Young Persons' Association Introduction

The Outstanding Young Persons' Association, TOYPA in short, was formed in 1977. The Association is made up of awardees of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection. Membership of TOYPA exceeds two hundred.

The Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection, introduced to Hong Kong in 1970, is a major project of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber. Each year, the award is open to nominations by the public. After the process of carefully vetting candidates' data by an appointed auditor firm, the candidates are presented to a Judging Panel consisting of renowned leaders in the government, business, industries, education and various professions. Merits are given to the candidates' exceptional achievements in their respective fields as well as their contributions of personal time and efforts in serving the community.

The Outstanding Young Persons' Association not only gives proper recognition to the achievements of the recipients, but also carries with it certain responsibilities. All those selected are expected to make further contributions to the community of Hong Kong and to serve as inspirational examples to other young people. It is with this spirit that recipients of the award work together to serve the community.

The aims of TOYPA are :

1. To sponsor and organise projects for the well-being of Hong Kong.
2. To propose recommendations to the Government or relevant authorities on matters pertaining to the welfare of Hong Kong.
3. To assist in the annual selection of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons.

TOYPA membership covers diverse industries and professions including a number of active members in decisive arenas, serving on the Executive Council, Legislative Council, District Boards, Advisory Committees, Drafting Committee for the Basic Law of HKSAR, and National Peoples' Congress of the PRC and Hong Kong Affairs Advisors...etc.

Since its inception, TOYPA has organised and sponsored numerous community service projects. All financial resources have been generated from funds raised over the years. In all projects organised, co-organised or sponsored by TOYPA, members take an active role with commitment and dedication.
