Jaycees International Bid Book for the 41st World Congress 9th to 15th November 1986

Brussels Belgium

PJI 45

We believe:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;
That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
That government should be of laws rather than of men;
The earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and
That service to humanity is the best work of life.

Nous croyons:

Que la foi en Dieu donne à la vie son véritable sens;
Que la fraternité humaine transcende la souveraineté des nations;
Que la liberté des individus et de l'entreprise assure mieux la justice économique;
Que l'autorité doit s'appuyer sur la loi et non sur l'arbitraire;
Que la personne humaine est la plus précieuse des richesses;
Que servir l'humanité constitue l'œuvre la plus noble d'une vie.

Nosotros creemos:

Que la fe en Dios da sentido y objeto a la vida;
Que la hermandad de los hombres trasciende la soberania de las naciones;
Que la justicia economica puede ser obtenida mejor por hombres libres a través de la libre empresa;
Que los gobiernos deben ser de leyes mas que de hombres;
que el gran tesoro de la tierra reside en la personalidad human;
y
Que servir a la humanidad es la mejor obra de una vida.

BID COMMITTEE

THE JEUNE CHAMBRE DE BRUXELLES WILL CELEBRATE ITS 50th ANNIVERSARY IN 1986

In 1936, Jean-Paul Hirsch, Secretary General of the Chamber of Commerce set up the Junior Section of the Chamber of Commerce. Our chapter was thus the first one on the European continent.

In 1954, the Junior Section joined Jaycees International and in 1967 it changed its name and became the Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles.

It has always shown a great vitality regarding both the achievements of its numerous programs and the men who achieved them.

Our Chapter has known important dates in the JCI history :

1949 : World Congress in Brussels
1958 : European Conference
1970 : European Conference

It also gave men to the JCI :

1948 : Gilbert Mabille, Vice-President for Europe
1949 : Théo Staar, JCI World President
1950 : Paul Moureau, Vice-President for Europe
1951 : Arthur Ziegler, Vice-President for Europe
1966 : Roger Van Boxel, JCI Vice-President
1970 : Michel César, JCI Officer

The Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles has obtained international awards for its programs :

1964 : for the "Center of Public Speaking Training"
1967 : for the "Banque du Sang"
1968 : Jean-Paul Hirsch got a certificate for exceptional services to JCI
1970 : certificate of merit for the program "The Enterprise of Tomorrow".

These dates, these programs and above all these men who played a great part in the development of our chapter deserve to be given a marvellous gift, witness of the continuity of all these actions

a WORLD CONGRESS IN BRUSSELS IN 1986.

We do hope we will be able to give it to them.

Dear Mr. President,

Thank you for your letter informing me that the "Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles" is proposing to organize the World Congress of the International Jaycees in Brussels in November 1986.

I am pleased to let you know that the Belgian Government fully supports your application. Not only are we convinced that the city of Brussels is well equipped to host such a gathering, and confident that your organization will be up to the task of preparing it. But in addition we expect the ambitious economic recovery program that we launched last year to be in full bloom in 1986, and we welcome this opportunity to put Belgium on the center stage for an international audience of young executives in 1986.

Sincerely,

W. MARTENS

Chers amis de la Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles,

Je suis particulièrement heureux en tant que Président de la Chambre de Commerce de Bruxelles, d'avoir appris que la Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles s'est portée candidate à l'organisation du Congrès Mondial de la Jeune Chambre Internationale en 1986.

Il va sans dire qu'une entreprise d'une telle envergure constitue une opportunité à saisir non seulement pour notre pays et pour notre ville dont l'infrastructure est destinée à accueillir de semblables manifestations, mais également pour les membres de la Jeune Chambre eux-mêmes qui retireront immanquablement de riches expériences des contacts qu'ils noueront à cette occasion.

Par ailleurs, afin d'assurer le succès de votre entreprise qui couronnera de la sorte magnifiquement 50 ans de vie Jeune Chambre à Bruxelles, la Chambre de Commerce se déclare prête à vous soutenir et à mettre ses services à votre disposition.

Messieurs,

C'est avec plaisir que nous vous confirmons que le BRUSSELS SHERATON HOTEL sera heureux de recevoir le 41ième congrès mondial de JAYCEES INTERNATIONAL en novembre 1986 (dates à déterminer).

Nous avons pris note que le Headquarters sera au Brussels Sheraton et que nos salles de banquets seront réservées à cet effet. Nous mettrons à votre disposition 200 chambres et feront le maximum pour augmenter ce montant.

Nous comptons sur vous pour faire le nécessaire auprès de l'agence Wagons-Lits afin que ce dernier considère le Brussels Sheraton Hotel en premier pour ces contingents dans les hôtels de notre catégorie.

Espérant que votre Assemblée Générale du congrès organisateur choisira comme destination Bruxelles, nous vous prions de croire, Messieurs, en l'expression de notre considération distinguée.

Karl F. Foerster

Brussels-Sheraton Hotel

Located in the heart of Brussels, the capital of Belgium, THE BRUSSELS SHERATON HOTEL offers anything you need in terms of luxury, comfort and good eating, excellent service in a country that has hospitality in its blood.

The hotel has 600 rooms which are elegantly furnished with living areas, fully-fitted bath-rooms, colour TV with in-house video movies, radio, direct-dial telephones and individually controlled air-conditioning. There are also apartments with spacious living/dining areas, kitchenettes and separate guest toilets.

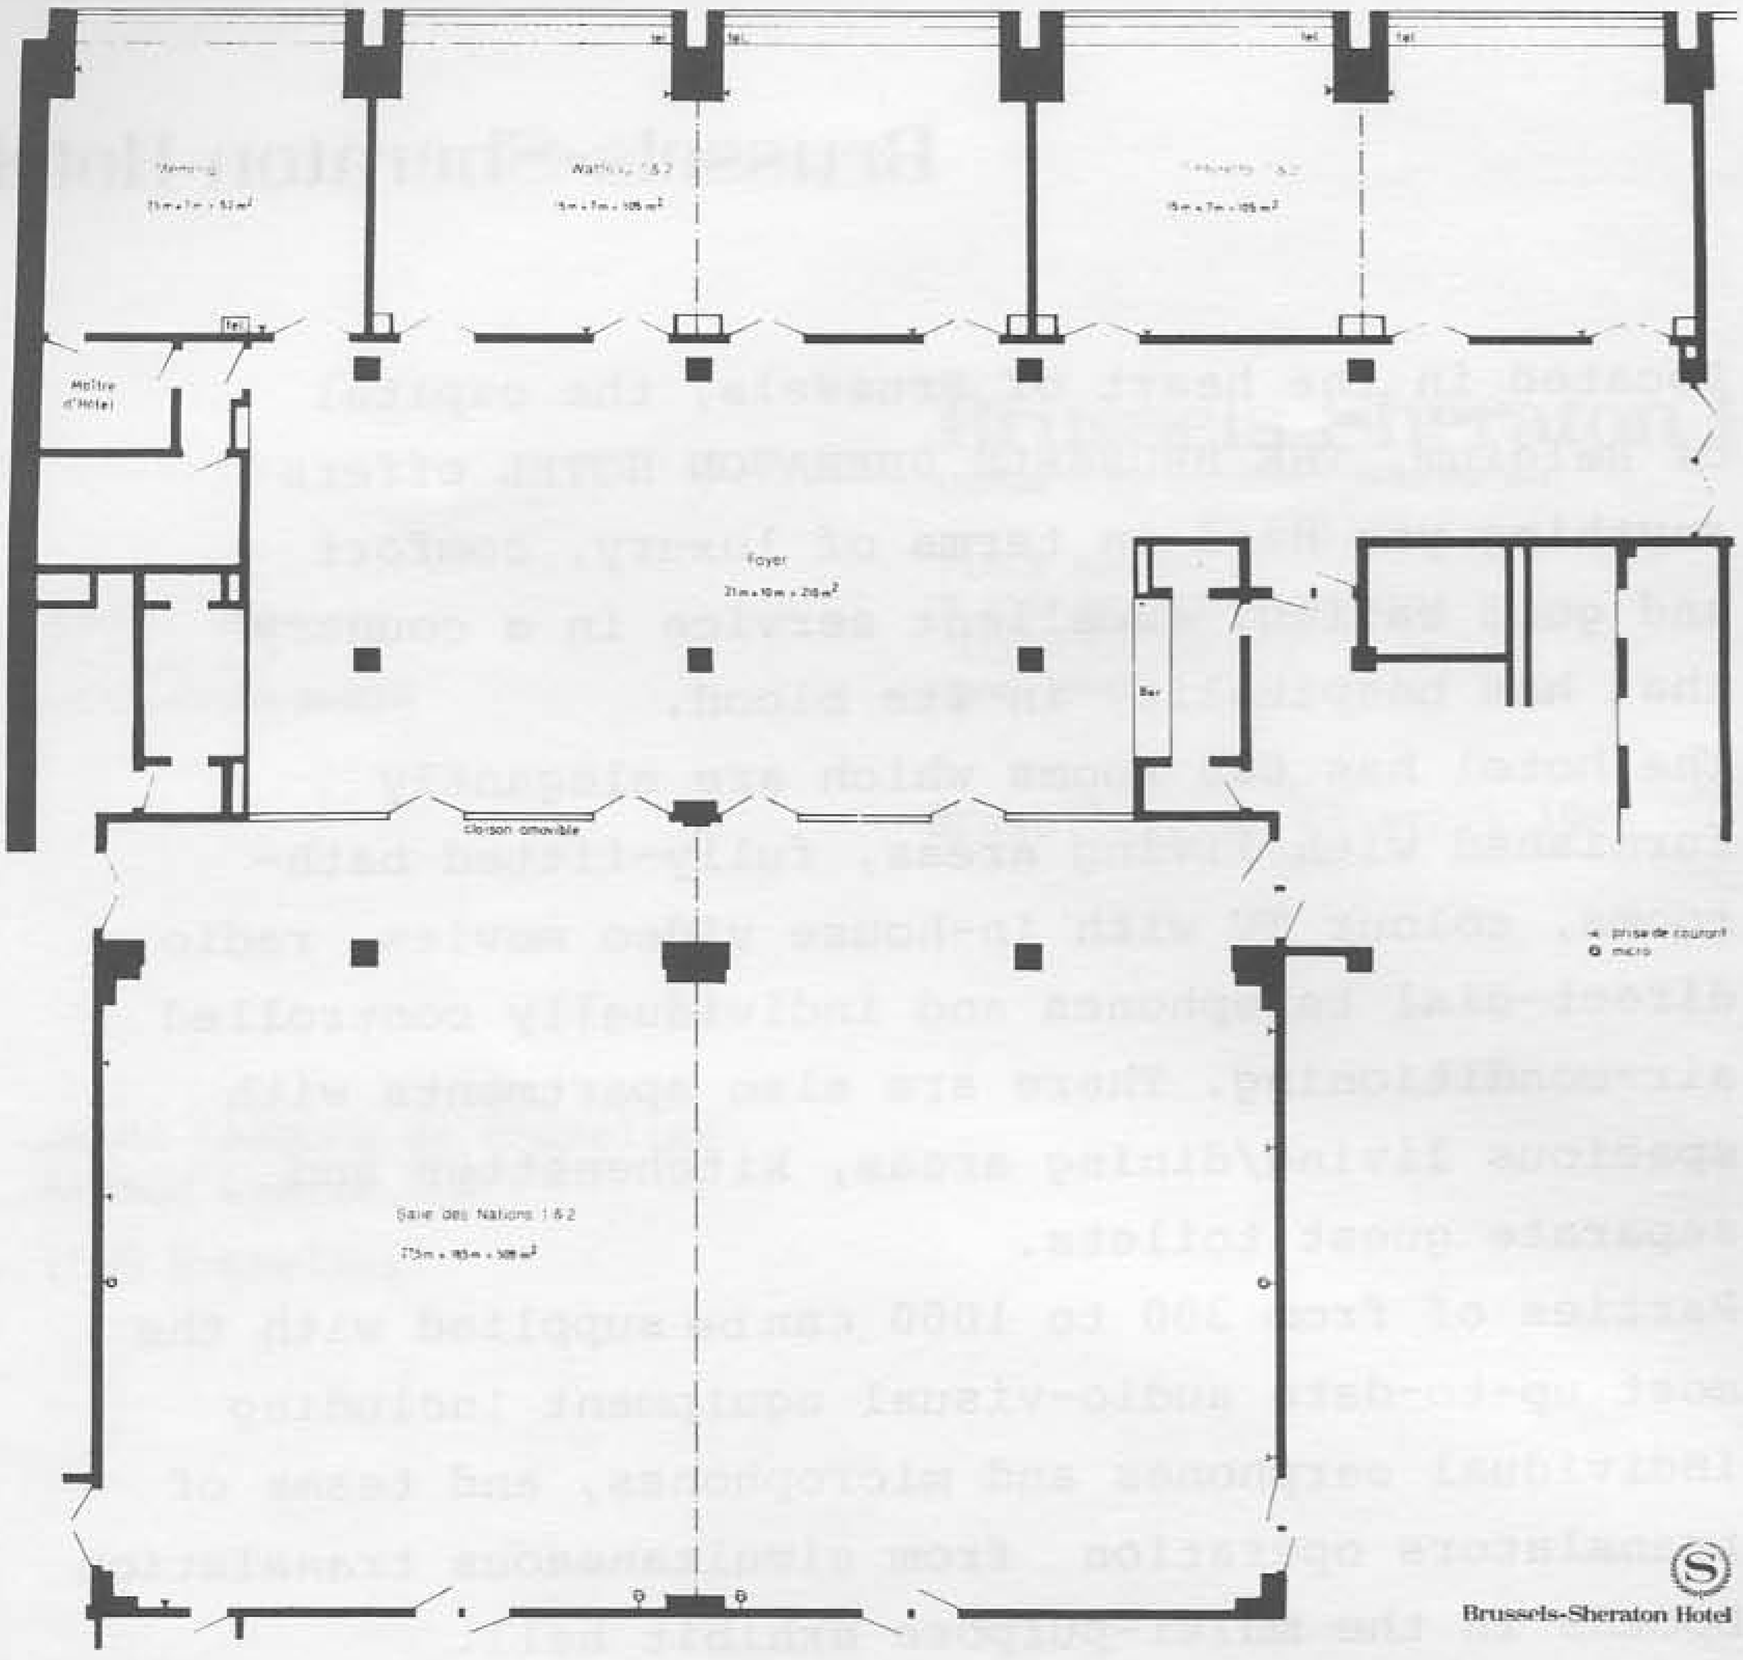

Parties of from 300 to 1000 can be supplied with the most up-to-date audio-visual equipment including individual earphones and microphones, and teams of translators operation from simultaneaous translation booths in the multi-purpose exhibit hall.

On the 30th floor up to 300 people can enjoy a pano-ramic view over Brussels while attending anything from a cocktail party to a banquet to a fashion show. All 15 of the large and small function rooms are very adaptable.

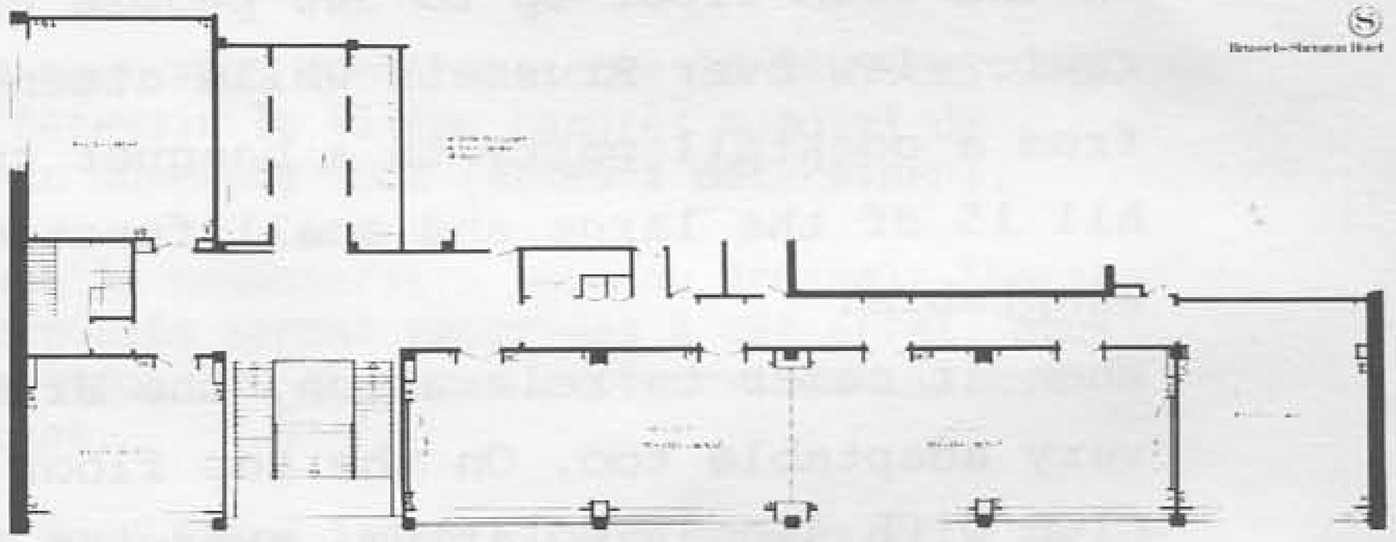

When it comes to relaxation, the Brussels Sheraton is very adaptable too. On the top floor is the Horizon Club with sauna, solarium, exercise facilities, indoor heated swimming pool and bar.

Downstairs, the Rendezvous Bar is cosy and intimate with a piano player to make it even more so. It's the perfect place to meet for pre-dinner drinks.

The sumptuous Comtes de Flandre Restaurant is the place to enjoy truly Haute Cuisine at an unhurried pace with excellent service and fine wines from a cellar we're extremely proud of. In the Art Deco atmosphere of the Pavillon Restaurant you can enjoy excellent light meals 18-hours a day. We say light meals, but of course this is Brussels so even a simple Omelette will have the touch of a Master Chef. Well, we did say the Brussels Sheraton has something of a reputation amongst gourmets.

Le 25 mars 1984

1936-1986. Cinquante années de présence du mouvement à Bruxelles. Un jubilé qui ne peut se célébrer sans l'organisation d'un programme à la hauter des travaux réalisés par notre OLM.

Il m'est agréable de vous annoncer que la Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles a souhaité associer tous les membres Jaycees à cet anniversaire en présentant sa candidature à l'organisation du 4I Congrès Mondial J.C.I en novembre 1986.

Les autorités politiques et économiques nous ont témoigné leur soutien à ce projet de faire de notre ville le centre de la vie J.C.I. et assurer un séjour agréable et intéressant à tous les Congressistes.

La présence aux Congrès Mondiaux de membres de la Jeune Chambre de Bruxelles, en délégation avec Jaycees Belgium, a permis de retirer la quintescence de ces dernières manifestations en vue de mieux rencontrer les souhaits des délégués.

La présente brochure rassemble les arguments de notre candidature et nous nous tenons à votre disposition pour vous communiquer tous renseignements supplémentaires que vous souhaiteriez obtenir.

Strolling in Brussels

The Grand-Place and its trade corporation houses, the Town Hall, King's House, Manneken Pis and his collection of costumes and decorations, the Sablon square encircled by the old houses of master craftsmen and the antique dealers'area, the Place Royale and its majestic regularity, the Brussels Park, symbol of the 1830 Revolution, the Royal Palace and the Parliament, the Palais des Beaux-Arts, the St-Michael's Cathedral and its collection of stained glass windows, the Galeries St-Hubert, the first covered shopping arcade built in Europe, the Théâtre de la Monnaie, home of the XXth century ballet, the Place Ste-Catherine, and its fish market, the Atomium, remembrance of the Universal Exhibition in 1958, the Laeken Royal Château, the Place de la Duchesse and its Horse Market, the Place du Jeu de Balle and its Flea Market, the magnificent Cinquantenaire Archways commemorating fifty years of Belgian Independance and its Royal Art and History Museum, the Berlaymont, seat of the European Economic Community, real lace shops, the Erasmus' Museum are only the upper part of the iceberg of wonders waiting for you in Brussels. And if you want to leave the city, plenty of possibilities merit a visit as e.g. the colourful Forêt de Soignes, the castles of Beersel, Rixensart and Tervueren and the site of the Battle of Waterloo. And don't forget that our national cuisine is world-reknowned and that a lot of very refined restaurants would be delighted to show you what makes the Belgian gastronomy so famous.

One day in Antwerp

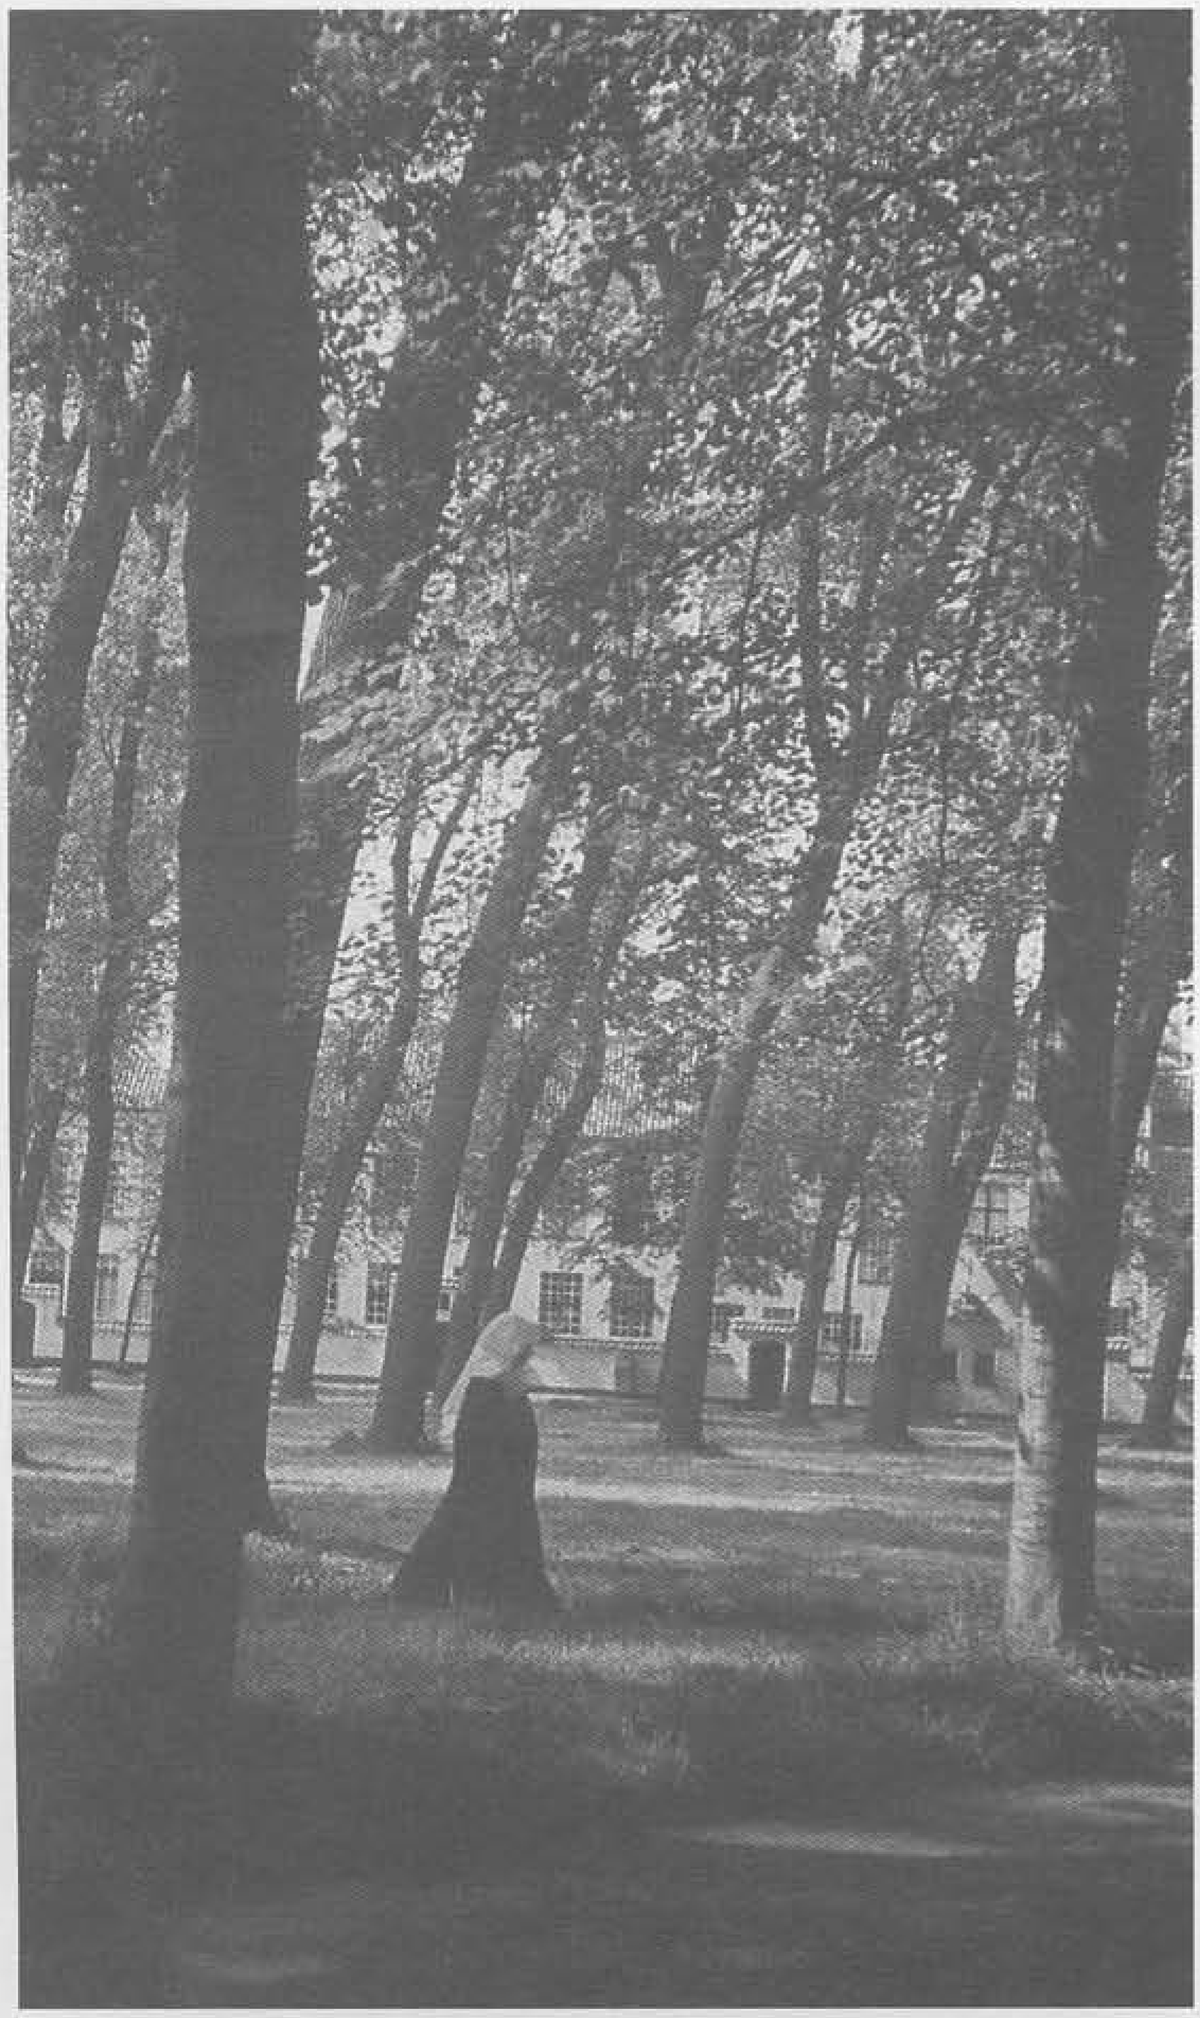

How could one not be fascinated by the many aspects of this city, symbol of the various dominations Belgium has been submitted to ? For those who like history and art, the Rubens House, the Museum Plantin-Moretus, the first printing house, the Steen Maritime Museum, the Butchers' Hall and many churches of priceless treasure are unmistakable. Besides Antwerp is also known as a Diamond centre and as one of the most important port in the world and you will certainly have heard of its world famous zoo.

One day to Ghent and Bruges

Bruges is near the coast, a dreamy city of picturesque canals, tiny bridges, narrow cobbled streets, gabled houses, and lush lawns. In this city of medieval splendours, you will look, linger and never hurry. A miracle of preservation, Bruges was ordained to survive through the centuries to glorify true craftsmanship in architecture, buildings, stone masonry and painting.

Situated on the Scheldt and Leie rivers, Ghent is interlaced with canals and has over 200 bridges. It has the largest number of historical buildings. The Castle of the Counts, St Bavo Cathedral, with its masterpiece "The Mystic Lamb" by Van Eyck. The Towering Belfries with its Carillon of 52 bells and to have an idea of Flemish home life in the early 1900's you have got to visit the Folklore Museum.

Liege and the Ardennes

Liège, the Northern gateway to the glorious Ardennes, situated at the junction of the rivers Meuse and Ourthe, symbolizes at the same time life and industry. Former city of the Prince Bishops, well known for its Museum of Walloon Folklore, Liège is also the city of 2 great musicians César Franck and André Grétry. The independent character of the people of Liège has provided to give to this city its warm and easy atmosphere. Look for Val-Saint-Lambert crystal, the finest in Belgium, made in Liège. See the exquisite designs of jewellery, study the craftsmanship of the sporting guns for which Liège has been world famous for centuries.

From Liège on let's take a relaxing breath in the rocky Ardennes hills and wooded countryside.

BRUSSELS BELGIUM

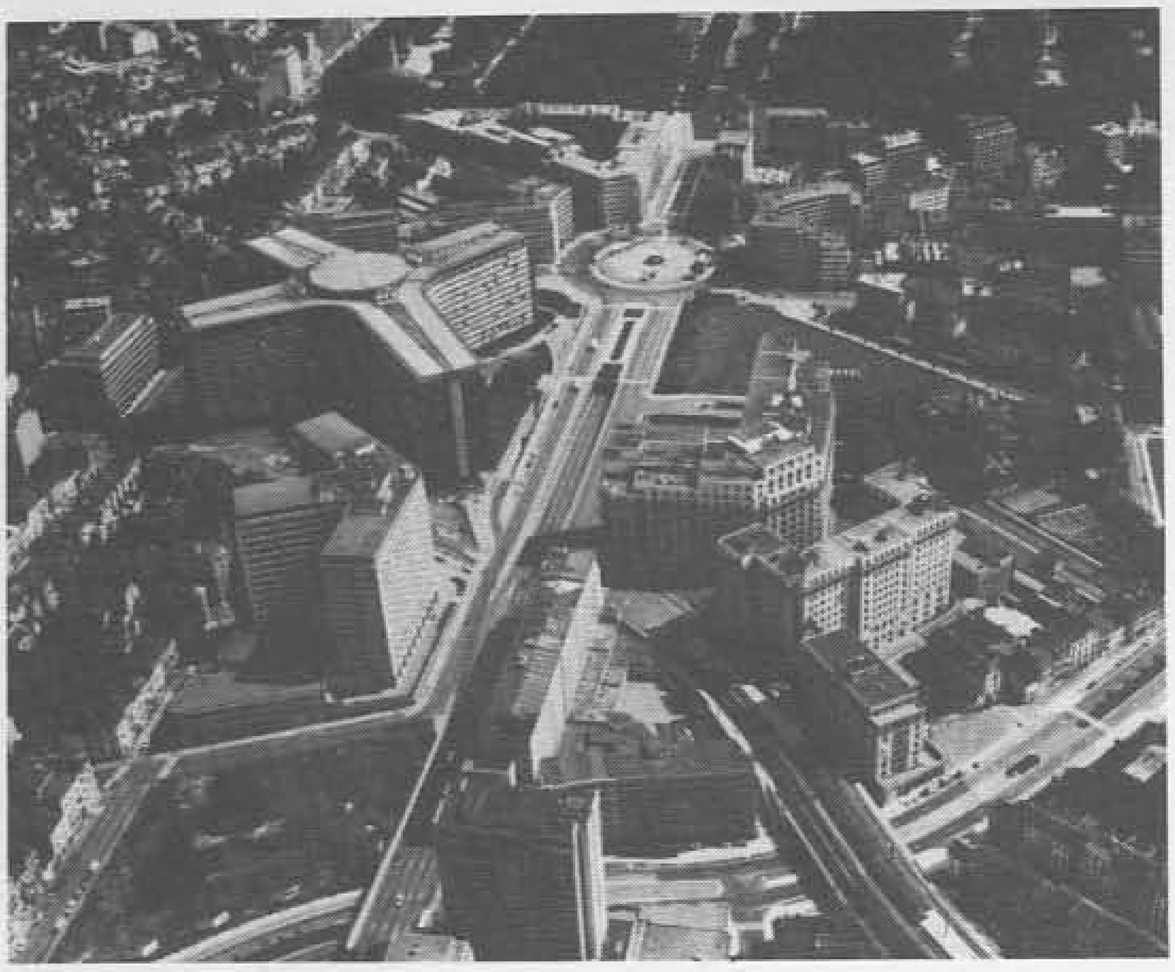

BELGIUM

In 1830, during the period after the Napoleonic Wars, when borders between states were stabilizing, Belgium became an independent kingdom situated among rather mighty neighbours; France, Germany, Holland and Great Britain.

In this small, 30.500 sq. km (11.800 sq. mi) country, the coming together of nearly equal parts of Germanic and Latin cultures is reflected in Belgium's two major languages, Dutch (Flemish) and French, and in the unique flavor of life and customs.

Over the years, Belgium's more than 9 millions inhabitants have developed a very special atmosphere, where both "Northerners" and "Southerners" will feel comfortable. About half the population is concentrated in the large towns and the immediate surrounding areas. The most important of these focal points are Brussels, seat of the European Common Market, Antwerp, the third world seaport, Liège, former seat of the Prince Bishops; Charleroi, important industrial centre and Ghent second port of the country.

Profiting by their trade the industrialists and merchants are developing their trade by investing in enterprise and modern methods. That is why Belgium still has intense economic activity and can offer rich rewards to those enthusiastic for progress. At the same time, decisive events, making history for the old continent are taking place on Belgian soil. In an all out effort to promote European unity four basic dates bear testimony : 1921 the Belgo-Luxemburg Economic Union (BLEU), 1944 the Belgium-Netherlands-Luxemburg Union (BENELUX), 1948-1954 the Western European Union (WEU) and 1958 the European Economic Comunity (EEC), Euratom and NATO; Belgian commerce power in the world. Belgium is the leading exporter amongst the industrial countries. It also leads in combined exports and imports. In cut and industrial diamonds, Belgium and Luxemburg are the world's leading exporters - the same applies to sheet and reinforced glass. In steel, Belgium are the leading producers per head and second in the world exporters of iron products. Belgium leads Europe in copper production and the world in cobalt, germanium and radium.

FLANDERS

To those who stay at the coastal resorts, and travel only a few miles inland, Flanders appears to be flat country; nothing could be further from the truth. When you get to know all of Flanders you will realize it has a countryside of great variety and many pleasant surprises. Peaceful canals and rivers inter-weaving the picturesque Polders, and rolling hills away to the South. The Kempen, which includes much of the provinces of Limburg and Antwerp, is an area of moors, heather, lakes surrounded by fir trees and pine scented air. Here you will find many fine camping sites with good facilities. Wherever you go you will not be far from an ancient castle, abbey or beguinage, all telling the history of Flanders within their walls. Belfries dominate the towns and villages, their carillons linking them together. Flanders is seaside and changing countryside all within easy distance of each other.

WALLONIA

Wallonia is the French-speaking part of Belgium. A belt of industry runs across the country from Liège to Tournai, like a powerful dividing line. South of the belt lied the green region of the Ardennes. Many Walloon towns are reknowned for their art treasures, including Tournai, Huy, Namur, and, of course, in particular Liège with its museums. In Hainaut, the castles and living folklore are reason enough to attract countless visitors. Peace in the Ardennes, an educational holiday or a wonderful experience - whatever you wish for there's plenty of it in Wallonia. The 3.5 million Walloons make up some 36% of the Belgian population. Their origins date back to Celtic times and they were later romanized.

BRUSSELS

Brussels, an ancient merchant city, entered history in about the 7th century. It consolidated its power over the centuries through a series of bitter struggles which provide its historic landmarks, and through the resources which ensured its economic expansion. From being capital of the Low Countries, it became capital of Belgium and discovered its international vocation in welcoming the Headquarters of the European institutions, NATO and in attracting more than 700 principal offices of multinational business firms and 1.117 international organizations.

A fortified trading post on the crossroads of the early trade routes of Europe, Brussels celebrated its millenium in 1979. And ever since medieval times, the promotion of trade and commerce has been a primary activity.

Its present character is that of a major financial, industrial and commercial centre, but it is also an architectural gem, its many old buildings reflecting all the facets of its past with its local traditions, finesse and joie de vivre.

Brussels, the capital of Belgium, seat of the Government, residence of the monarch and chief city of the province of Brabant, is situated on the Senne, a minor tributary of the Schelde, a small river running underground through the city from South and North.

It was quite a task to preserve the local atmosphere in a city with all this international activity. But to the credit of the one million people of the Brussels area, they have maintained a way of life in their city that cherishes the human dimension.

The international presence has, on the contrary, stimulated a movement to preserve local customs and historical monuments and foster appreciation of our cultural heritage.

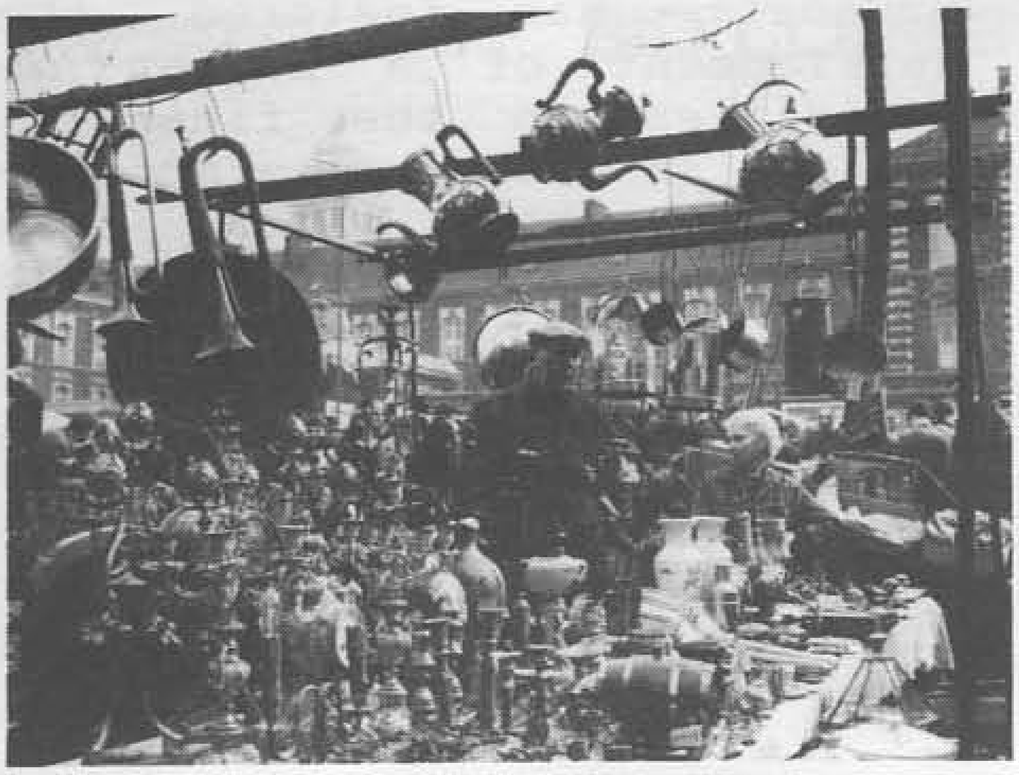

The highlight of any visit to Brussels is the Grand Place, one of the most beautiful market squares in Europe, with its sumptuous guild houses and townhall. Just a short walk from the Grand Place is the famous "Manneken Pis", reputed to be the oldest citizen of Brussels, he stands rudely demonstrating his attitude of independence.

Other interesting sites are the Palais de Justice (Law Courts), the King's Palace, and, not to be forgotten, the Atomium, symbol of the Brussels World Fair in 1958.

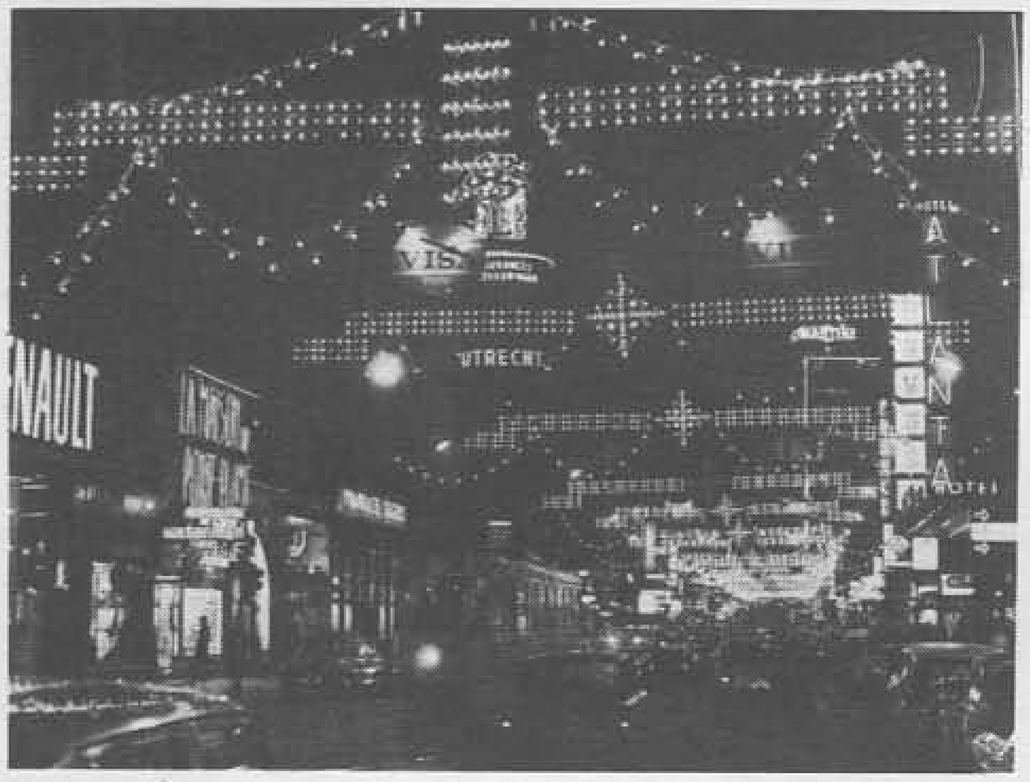

You'll find 17 ancient castles in the immediate vicinity of Brussels and the famous battlefield of Waterloo is only 18 km away.

And, if you want to stroll in the park, you have the choice amongst 18 city parks within walking distance.

For art lovers, there are outstanding collections of modern and ancient art. The Flemish primitives are world reknowned. Brussels was Breugel's home and Belgian craftsmen taught tapestry-weaving throughout Europe. The Instrument Museum of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Erasmus' House, the Royal Museum of Central Africa and many others are all worth a visit.

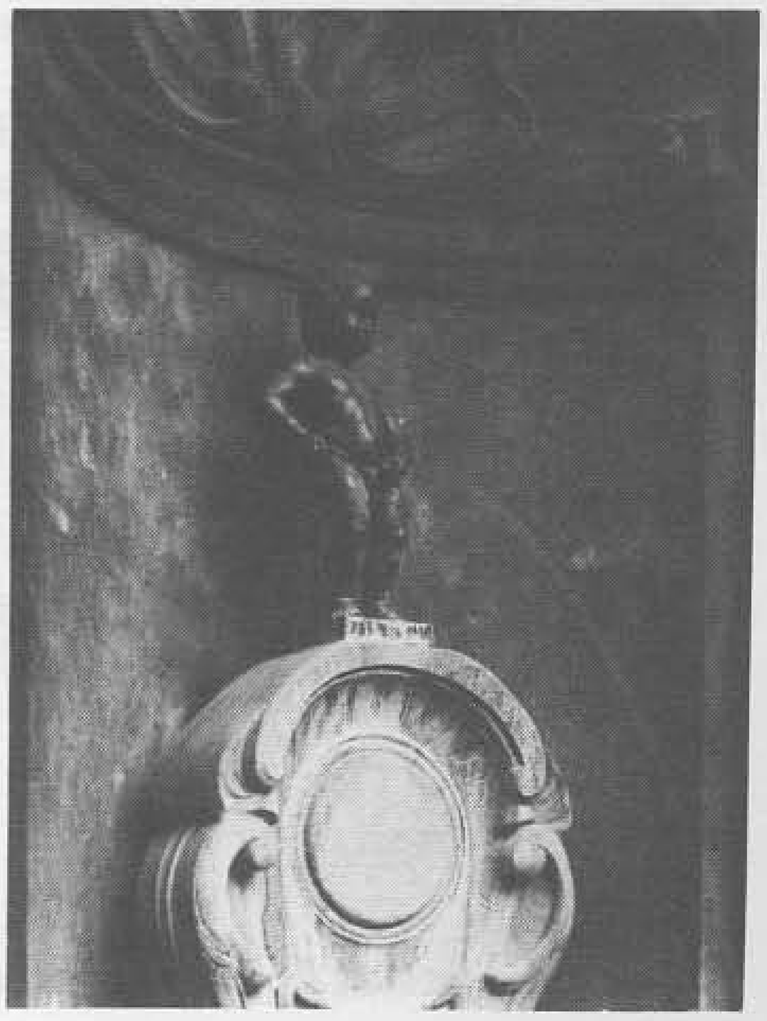

Industrial Centre

Ever since the 19th century, the economy of Brussels has been based chiefly on the processing sector. The principal industries are : foodstuffs, beverages, tobacco, chemicals, printing and publishing, ready-made clothing, automobile assembly, aircraft construction, watches and jewelry, light metals, scientific and medical instruments, audio-visual equipment, and of course building.

Commercial centre

Commerce is one of the principal sectors of the Brussels economy; it employs over 16% of the workforce.

The Belgian capital has always been active in international trade. Belgium exports more per capita than any other country. The central position of Brussels and its numerous communication routes offer it remarkable links with the large industrial zones of West Europe. The port installations of the sea canal of Brussels concentrate the whole of the infrastructure needed for the sea, rail and road traffic Brussels is with this infrastructure one of the largest supply and distribution centres of the European Economic Community.

Financial centre

The international role of Brussels has fostered the development of a number of activities in the financial field. In addition to some 20 Belgian banks, which have their headquarters in the city, many foreign banks operate in Brussels. Brussels plays an important role in Eurocurrency operations. These operations constitute the principal activity of most of the foreing banks located here.

Service Centre

A characteristic feature of the economy of Brussels, to be found also in other urban economics of the developed countries, is a highly developed service sector which employs at present 80% of the local workforce.

Growth in this sector stems from the creation of consultancy services of companies providing management services or specialized in problems resulting from technology, translation services, sub-contracting, insurances companies and other financial organizations such as leasing companies, all of them designed to service industrial development, not forgetting the many corporate headquarters, European, Atlantic and other international institutions which are all located in Brussels.

The availability of a highly qualified workforce has also helped to attract a considerable number of service companies.
