我們深信 ：
篤信真理可使人類的生命
具有意義和目的
人類的親愛精神沒有疆域的限制
經濟上的公平應由自由的人
通過自由企業的途徑獲得之
健全的組織應建立在法治的精神上
人格是世界上最大的寶藏
服務人群是人生最崇高的工作

HISTORY OF THE CREED

The Jaycee is a sincere and beautiful gift of William Brownfield to all members of the Junior Chamber International.

Brownfield was inspired to write the six-tenet creed when he first became a Jaycee and attended the 1946 U.S. National Convention.

The creed sums up in so very few words, the ideals and purpose of an organization that believes in God and the dignity of the human being. It advances the values of free govermnent and free enterprise. It places an infinite price on the uniqueness of man and the inherent good in him. And above all, the creed espouses the thought and encourages the practice that service to humanity is the best work in life.

The Jaycee Creed was officially adopted by the United States Jaycees in 1947, and later by the Junior Chamber International in 1951.

The Quality of people is the paramount force for the growth, prosperity and stability of a society. We need outstanding young people to set examples and lead younger generations to develop a better society. The Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection is indeed a prestigious event in recognising the excellent quality and achievements of young people. This selection encourages promising youths in our society to seek further advancement in both personal achievement and public service.

We at Arthur Andersen consider it a great pleasure and honour to be the Selection Consultant for the third consecutive year. Message from President Junior Chamber International

As the 50th President of Junior Chamber International, an ever-growing organization, it is my great pleasure and honor to extend my warmest message of greetings to President Raymond Yu and the members of Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce on the occasion of their 23rd TOYP Selection and Awards Presentation.

We have just celebrated 50 years of service to our local communities and to people worldwide. What wonderful changes we have seen in our world in the past few years - welcoming new countries from Eastern Europe into our beloved organization, while witnessing a wall that once divided a nation come down. May we continue to grow in our kindness and charity to other countries and see true harmony everywhere. There are still so many horizons to be explored.

As we embark on our next 50 years, my presidential emphasis is to stay One Step Ahead in all our endeavors. It is important that we remain One Step Ahead in service to our communities, training, planning, communications, marketing, growth and development, and community projects. We must anticipate needs, seek solutions and endeavor to excel in all our projects.

It is essential that we remain One Step Ahead in 1995, working together to remind the world of the importance of maintaining a healthy environment, restoring economic development, and ensuring the future of children.

Best wishes for a most successful Selection and Awards Presentation!

One Step Ahead in 1995

Message from President
Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce

On behalf of The Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce, I would like to congratulate the nine awardees of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection.

Since 1970, this project has already honored more than 170 outstanding young leaders in the community of Hong Kong who have been contributing their time and efforts to serve the community and work for a better Hong Kong. Their outstanding performance in their own professions and community services have also set exemplary models for the youth in Hong Kong. I do hope that this project can continue to encourage more young people to strike for excellence and their field as well as to contribute to our community.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank The Hon. Anson Chan, CBE, JP, Chief Secretary, for being the Patron of this project, The Hon. Donald Tsang, OBE, JP, Financial Secretary for being the Guest of Honour of the award presentation ceremony. My sincere thanks also go to the distinguished panel of judges and Arthur Andersen & Co., the selection consultant to this project, for their valuable time and efforts which make another successful Selection in 1995.

Last but not the least, my thanks and congratulations to Chairman Angela Ying, Advisor PNP Daniel Cham, NIPP Ronald Ho and the dedicated organizing committee members for their hard work and inspiration to this project.

Raymond Yu
President

Message from Hon. Life President Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce

It is fitting that the community should honour young people for their achievement beyond the call of duty. Their significant work for the well-being of the less fortunate people here or their own success in advancing their career through outstanding performance in their business or professions is reason enough to be singled out for other young people to emulate.

I join with the community at large to acclaim those who have been selected for this year's awards.

With best wishes,

A. de O. Sales
Hon. Life President

Message from Supervising Officer

It gives me great pleasure to congratulate the nine awardees of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection. They are the role models for our young people and it is only through their dedication as well as hard work for the community that they earn this well-deserved recognition.

To the organising committee led by chairman Angela, I see that they have again produced an exceptionally high-standard selection. The overwhelming response towards the nomination, the extensive media coverage and the very active involvement of past TOYP awardees all speak for itself.

I am sure that all the TOYP awardees, both past and current, have not only treasured this prestigious award, but they go on to actually contribute even more towards our community.

Ronald Ho

National Immediate Past President

Message from Project Chairman

I would like to take this opportunity to thank many parties for their participation and support, without which the "1995 Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection" will not be able to succeed. First of all, I would like to thank the Chief Secretary, the Hon. Mrs. Anson Chan, CBE, JP for continuing to be our Patron; the Financial Secretary, the Hon. Donald Tsang, OBE, JP as the Guest of Honour for the Award Presentation Ceremony; Manulife Financial as the sole Sponsor for the second consecutive year; Arthur Andersen & Co. as our Selection Consultant again; Sir Roger Lobo as our Chief Judge again; the Hon. Rosanna Wong Yick-ming, CBE, JP, the Hon. Nicholas W.F. Ng, JP, Professor C.K. Poon, OBE, JP, Dr. Ronald D.B. Leung, OBE, JP as our Panel of Judges.

I am also much indebted to my Organizing Committee which numbers over 40 members. Since April this year, together we have put into hundreds of man-hours to arrange three press conferences, one tram parade, over 40 promotion visits, 2 days of selection interview, 18 consecutive weekly press interview columns on past TOYPS awardees, 13 consecutive weekly radio interview broadcasts, issuance of first-ever TOYP Selection commemorative phone card, 20 pages of special press supplements and many media interviews and tonight's Grand Award Presentation Ceremony. I think it is not too difficult to imagine the tremendous efforts the members have made having to work voluntarily (after a busy day of work or business) for 8 months and produce the above-mentioned programmes which even professional organizers will envy. They definitely deserve more than a great round of applause.

The Organizing Committee is fortunate enough to have the encouraging and supportive advice from National President Raymond, Supervising Officer NIPP Ronald, Advisors PNP Daniel and all the TOYPA members including Chairman Justein Wong as well as Vice Chairman Patrick Lau.

As the project chairman, I find that this is one of the most fascinating experiences I have ever had. I would like to congratulate the nine awardees for their successful selection Although we select not more than ten persons each year, the message and the efforts are actually coming from thousands and thousands of young individuals who together will create an even better tomorrow for Hong Kong.

Angela Ying

THE IMPOSSIBLE DREAM

Music By Mitch Leigh
Arr. by Marcel G. Frank

To dream the Impossible dream
To fight the unbeatable. foe
To bear with unbearable sorrow
To run where the brave dare not go

To right the unrightable wrong
To love pure and chaste from afar
To try when your arms are too weary
To reach the unreachable star

This is my quest to follow that star
No matter how hopeless, no matter how far
To fight for the right
Without question or pause

To be willing to march into hell
For a heavenly cause
And I know if I'll only be true
To this glorious quest
That my heart will tie peachful and calm
When I'm laid to my rest

And the world will be better for this
That one man scorned and covered with scars
Still strive with his last ounce of courage
To fight the unbeatable foe
To reach the unreachable star

1. Achievement in career and involvement in community services:

In 1979, I immigrated to Hong Kong from China with my family. Due to economical difficulties, I entered the society at a young age. Therefore, I needed to spare evening time on studying in order to further enrich myself.

Later, I was employed as a stock keeper at a car spare parts company and had my first taste in the car business. In 1987, I established my own car service company. As it was only a very small company at that moment, I did everything by myself and devoted most of my time on it.

After eight years of hard work, I became the Chairman of the Shing Kee Motors Group Company Limited, with ten subsidiaries, mainly in the automobile or related business.

This year, I was invited by a substantial USA corporation to the host country to participate in discussion panels on car business in Hong Kong and shared their management technique. Through this opportunity, I hope I can promote the reputation of Hong Kong car industry.

Despite the busy schedule in business, I derive my satisfaction in taking part in community work. I am a fund raising committee member of the Community Chest, and advisor of the Hong Kong District to the China Government, a member of the Hong Kong Federation of Young Group and the Hong Kong Automobile Association.

I am particularly active in doing community and social service work for the District of Tai Hang, being Chairman and Vice Chairman to three separate associations. In addition, I also founded my own Foundation in Education in order to support the educational programs for the poor children in China.

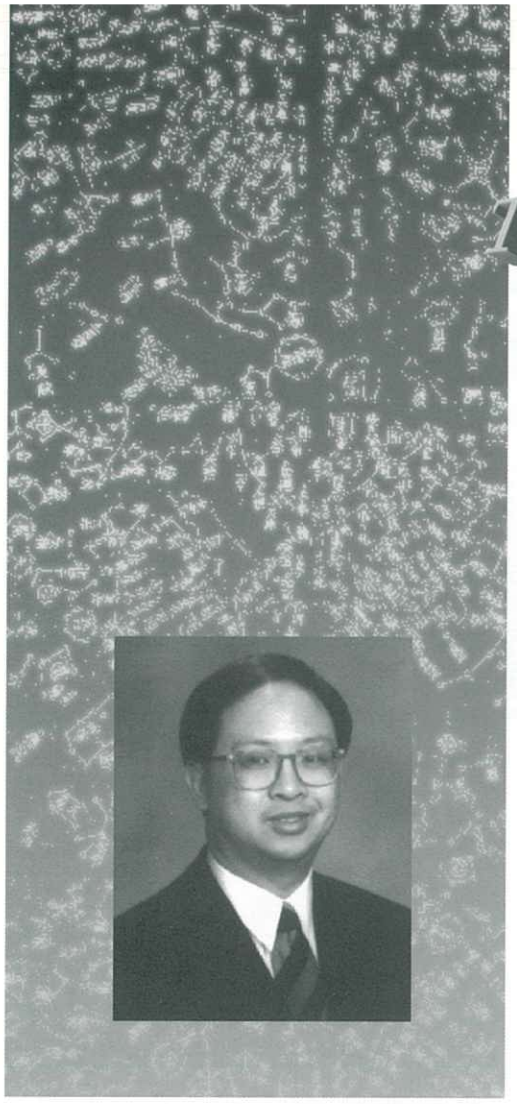

2. Personal vision and goals for future:

In the near future, I will devote all of my time in the automobile business. I really want to improve the standard and the ways of doing business, even in the very difficult time of motor car business. I hope that this industry will become better organized and all my staff can become professional and provide quality services to the customers.

Mr. Liang Hin Suen, Raymond
梁憲孫

Proposer: Prof. Sir David Todd

Since its introduction in 1970, 'Ten Outstanding Young Persons' Award has earned the good reputation it deserves. The event is one of the most meaningful projects organized by the Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce. It is my greatest honour to be selected this year for the award. I wish to express my sincere thanks to Professor Sir David Todd. He is my teacher and mentor. Also, I am most grateful to my wife May and my parents for their constant support, encouragement and understanding.

I have dedicated myself to an academic career since my graduation from the Hong Kong University Medical School in 1979. After finishing my training in general medicine, I decided to serve patients with blood cancer. The disease commonly affected young people and is highly fatal. I believe the greatest reward to me is to see many of my patients being permanently cured and successfully reintegrating into their personal, social and professional lives.

My duties in the University include research, teaching and patient care. In the last decade, the Department of Medicine of the University of Hong Kong has gradually become a world renowned center for blood cancer research. We have made significant contributions to the understanding of the biology and the development of better treatment. We have reported extensively results of our research in international journals. I am also invited frequently to present our findings in international meetings and visit famous cancer centers around the world. Furthermore, we participate in many international research collaborations. As the Director of the Cancer Research center of the University, I try not only promoting or facilitating cancer research within the University but encouraging interaction with other major cancer centers in China and international communities.

Another important responsibility of a University teacher is the training of future doctors. Being a medical school of more than a hundred years old with great tradition, we have been very successful in attracting extremely bright students of outstanding academic records. However, we realize that they need to have the appropriate character to become a good and caring doctor. As the Associate Dean of our medical school, I have encouraged secondary school students to do voluntary work in hospitals before they decide to do medicine. Also, being the Chairman of the Teaching Quality Committee of our medical school, I wish to see high quality medical teaching to be further enchanced. All these efforts aim to ensure that we are producing medical graduates of the highest standard to serve our community.

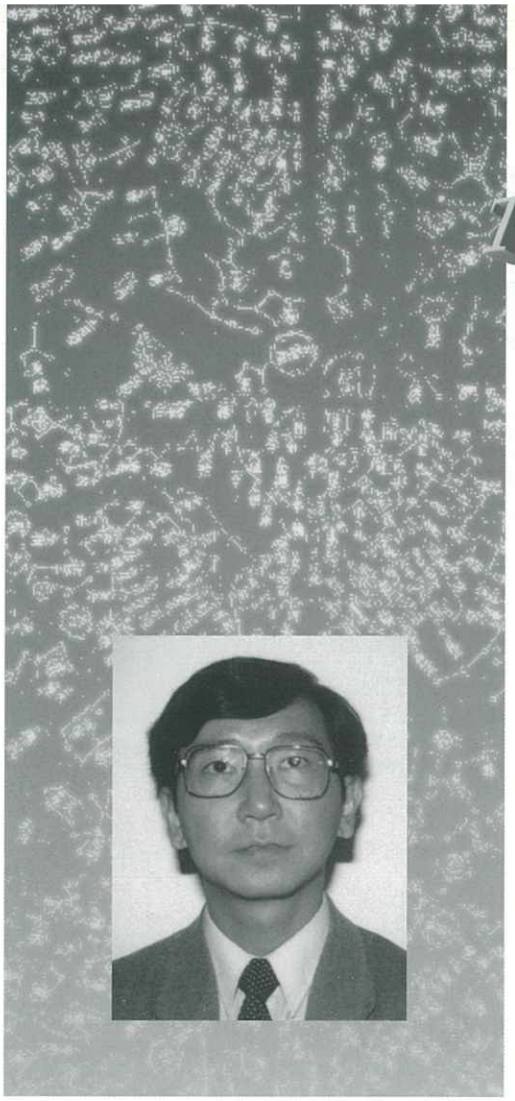

Our Department at Queen Mary Hospital is the tertiary referral center for treatment of blood diseases in Hong Kong. Every year, hundreds of unfortunate patients newly diagnosed with blood cancer are seen by us. With modern chemotherapy, many of them can now be cured. Advances in bone marrow transplantation have further improved their chance of surviving.

The first successful bone marrow transplant in Hong Kong was done in our Department five years ago. So far, more than 260 marrow transplants have already been performed at Queen Mary Hospital. As the Chief of the team, I am proud of our dedication to provide the best care to the patients.

Bone marrow transplantation is now a standard therapy for many blood diseases. One of the obstacles is the lack of suitable marrow donors. As the Honorary Secretary of the Hong Kong Marrow Match Foundation, I have contributed to the setting up of an All-Chinese Marrow Donor Registry in Hong Kong. Since its establishment in 1991, more than 18,000 volunteers have had their blood tested for possible marrow donation. So far, forty patients including eight overseas Chinese patients have had a marrow transplant from unrelated donors located by our Registry. This has provided hope for many who otherwise would have certainly died.

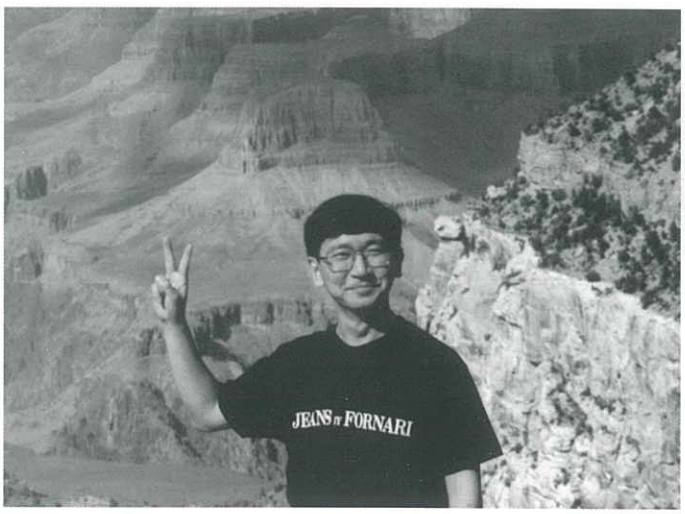

Lastly, I wish to thank all my dear colleagues who have been working closely with me. Every success is a team effort. Without their dedication and cooperation, none of the above mentioned would have happened.

Johannes M M Chan was born and educated in Hong Kong and London, specializing in the area of human rights, administrative law and constitutional law. In 1986, he was elected for the Best Teaching Award. As a prolific scholar, he has published extensively in many local and international academic journals. In 1991, he was appointed as a Senior Lecturer, being one of the youngest academics ever appointed to this level. He has acted as trial observer for international organizations in overseas countries to observe and report on whether such trials have complied with the international standards of fair trial. In 1993, he was appointed to the Committee of Experts by the International Committee of Red Cross, Geneva, to draft and settle, which he did, an authentic version of the ICRC Guides to the Geneva Convention and Protocol on the Law of War acceptable to both the PRC and Taiwan.

Mr. Chan has made significant contribution to the development of a bilingual legal system. He is one of the first local scholars who published legal writings in the Chinese language. He has assisted the Legislative Council in vetting the Chinese authentic version of draft legislation at the early stage of the introduction of bilingual legislation. He has served on the Working Party on the Use of Chinese Language for Legal Practitioners, and helped with the training of Chinese Language Officers and Court Interpreters in translating legal documents. In 1995, he was invited to assist the judiciary to standardize Chinese terminology commonly used in court proceedings.

In the last 10 years, he has given numerous public lectures to members of the public and voluntary agencies, conducted numerous training sessions for professionals and civil servants on human rights and the rule of law, and disseminated legal knowledge through his involvement in the production of many radio and TV civic education programs. As a member of the Committee on the Promotion of Civic Education in the last few years, he has actively participated in the preparation and production of various teaching kits on human rights and the rule of law for secondary school teachers.

Mr. Chan has served on various Government bodies and committees, including the Central Policy Unit, the Panel of Legal Advisors of the Office of Commission of Administrative Complaints, Working Party on the Code of Practice of the Broadcasting Authority, and Working Party on Youth Policy, He has also served on many voluntary organizations and professionals bodies, including the Bar Council of the Hong Kong Bar Association, the Council of the Hong Kong Red Cross, the working Party on Disability Discrimination of the Hong Kong Council for Social Workers, and the Research and Development Committee of the Hong Kong Federation of Youth Groups.

It has been a great privilege to be able to accomplish career goals and at the same time achieve community commitments. I give the most merit to Hong Kong - the place I choose to stay. It is the system, the people and above all, the spirit which I find most essential to make things happen.

After the first job with Alberta Government Telephones in Canada, I started my new career among business sectors upon returning to Hong Kong in 1980. The subsequent appointments with U.S. based Mast Industries and The Gap opened up the opportunities to establish regional Management Information Services headquarters in Far East region from scratch. We equipped them with the most sophisticated systems and telecommunications network for the operations. It resulted in the considerable size of order processing fully automated and garment production life cycle was cut halved. While it had also been an honour to be awarded with "Yes, There's A Way" and "Making A Difference" by Mast Industries and The Gap respectively during 1987 to 1992.

The current assisgnment with B.A.T. Co. (HK) Ltd. would be another challenge. Our goals to build up the company's global communication infrastructure within the Greater China region in 3 years. The earlier promising 2 years had earned the Management Services being ranked one of the best in quality service within the group.

Through the involvement in the Hong Kong Computer Society since 1984, I have engaged in a string of services among charitable, business, professional and community-service organizations. Before elected as the President of the Society this year, I have been invited by most of the universities in Hong Kong as a chairman or member of advisory committees for many years. The service has helped to ensure that the future IT professionals equip with relevant and practical know-how. My strong belief is that youth is the future of our society. They deserve the most of our attention and support.

With the strong support from the fellow members of the Society, there are 3 goals to be achieved. The first is to work with the Government to promote the standard and recognition of IT professionalism. The second is to project Hong Kong as the center of excellence for software industry, in particular on Chinese related basis. This status will well extend into 1997 and beyond. Thirdly, the target is to establish the standardization of IT Terminology Database for Chinese. It will be available for easy access. This will enhance effective and efficient communication among China, Hong Kong and Taiwan as well as the other parts of the world.

I started playing badminton at very young age with my brothers and neighbours. It was until I met my first coach that it had been the turning point of my life. I started to participate in open competitions in 1975 and had won Hong Kong Badminton Ladies' Champion for 10 times. Moreover, I was described as "little star" from Hong Kong when I represented Hong Kong for overseas competitions. In fact, the early years of my badminton career saw no lack of medal success, and I have won gold medals in the Asian Championships held in Beijing in 1978 and the world Championships held in Hangzhou. However, my development in badminton came to a standstill soon after that. Having to cope with the pressure from school and later occupied in my teaching career, I was unable to devote myself whole-heartedly to the sport. Finally, encouraged by my coach Diana Lo, I made the painful decision of becoming a full-time athlete. What awaited me behind this decision was a long period of lonely training. However, when the flag of Hong Kong slowly rose before my eyes during the medal presentation ceremony of the Commonwealth Game, at which I received Hong Kong's first gold medal in badminton from this important sports event with my mixed doubles partner Chan Chi Choi, I experienced the greatest moment of my life. The winning of the gold medal at this important tournament at long last has been a self-fulfillment to me.

Since 1986, I won the 'Coca-Cola Sports Stars Award for four consecutive years. I have been playing badminton for 15 years, and I thought this was the right time for me to retire at this height of my career. After my retirement in 1990, I flew to Springfield College to pursue my studies in Physical Education, and to fulfill my dream in academic too.

For the coming years, I would devote all my time in the development of sports and to educate the youngsters the importance of sports participation; and to raise the Hong Kong sports profile among other strong sports nations.

I came back in 1992 and was able to work in the Hong Kong Sports Institute as a Commercial Operations Manager to promote sports for all and sporting for a healthier life concept. In 1995, I was being transferred to the Athlete Affairs Department as a Manager to handle over 250 elite sportsmen and sportswomen in Hong Kong. My main responsibility is to help our scholarship athletes not only in career and education but also the total balance development of their lives.

I was born in a poor family. My parents worked very hard to provide a better living to their nine children. This is very fortunate that , I could finish my secondary studies. Under such circumstances, I have a strong aspiration to find my career.

When I graduated from the secondary school, I observed that most of my classmates who achieved good results were because they had sacrificed most of their time and spirit for studying. I told myself if I want to establish my own career, I also have to spend a lot of time on it. From that time, I worked 18 hours a day, I have been working as a swimming coach at morning, a sales coordinator at day time, and also a taxi driver at evening. I saved a sum of money to buy my first taxi, and found my own company. Being struggled hard for 18 years, now my business includes: property developments, restaurants, financial company, taxi and minibus company as well as the maxicab service.

As part of the social contribution, I am the Founder and President of the Association of Industries and Commerce of N.E. New Territories, Vice President of the Hong Kong Industrial Districts Industry and Commerce Associations, Vice President of the Kwun Tong Industries & Commerce Association and sponsor of several organizations. I have been an adviser of the Community Chest of Hong Kong, Member of the East Two Area Committee of Shatin; co-op member of Kwun Tong District Council and President of the Association for The Elderly of Aberdeen.

In the coming future, apart from developing my business, I will organize more activities for youth and aged people to express our concern to them and consolidate to maintain a peaceful and prosperous Hong Kong. On the other hand, I will call for more seminars to con-
