CANNES, THE TOWN OF YOUR SUCCESS

Michel Mouillot,
Mayor of Cannes,
Vice-President of the Regional Council of Provence-Alpes,
Côte d'Azur

Cannes has now become one of the preferred destinations for international business travel. Its fame, status and success were not acquired without any effort. Of course, nature has endowed the place with an exceptional setting and climate but this success is particularly due to the talent and know-how of all the professionals who have made the most of its natural assets. Few towns in the world can boast such a full and efficient range of services and none can provide all these facilities in a concentrated, harmonious space, verging on perfection. This ideal environment is conducive to all types of meetings and ideas. You think you know Cannes ? Undoubtedly, you don't know everything about it and you are probably unaware of some of the magical spots ready to welcome you and inspire you. Cannes awaits you ! In Cannes, there is always something new to discover.

CANNES, A WONDERFUL HISTORY

Until the 10th century, the history of the Cannes area was basically that of the Lérins islands and the religious community which set up there as early as the 5th century. The period from the 10th century to the beginning of the 19th century saw the gradual creation of settlements in the area. During this long period, Cannes (it only acquired this name in the 11th century) had to deal with much damage wrought by the pirates and the plague. However, despite these problems, the Cannois were able to organise a communal administration, develop fishing, agriculture, trade and extend the town which numbered 2626 inhabitants in 1791.

Until 1834 Cannes was just a straggling village of 4000 inhabitants, perched on the North slope of the hill of the Mont Chevalier, le Suquet. The houses started to extend into the open country on either side of the Route Royale

Then, thanks to tourism, introduced by the man who "discovered" Cannes, Lord Brougham in 1834, the town underwent an economic revolution to become a seaside resort known throughout the world. He had set a trend. Soon, the "tout-Londres" was talking about Cannes. This part of the lower Croix des Gardes soon became known as the "quartier des Anglais" (English district).

Prosper Mérimée was to become the Lord Brougham of the French aristocracy. He settled in Cannes in 1838, took part in high society life and was instrumental in turning Cannes into the "world salon"

After the "Pioneer Period" as the Anglo-saxons call it, comes the era of kings and queens.

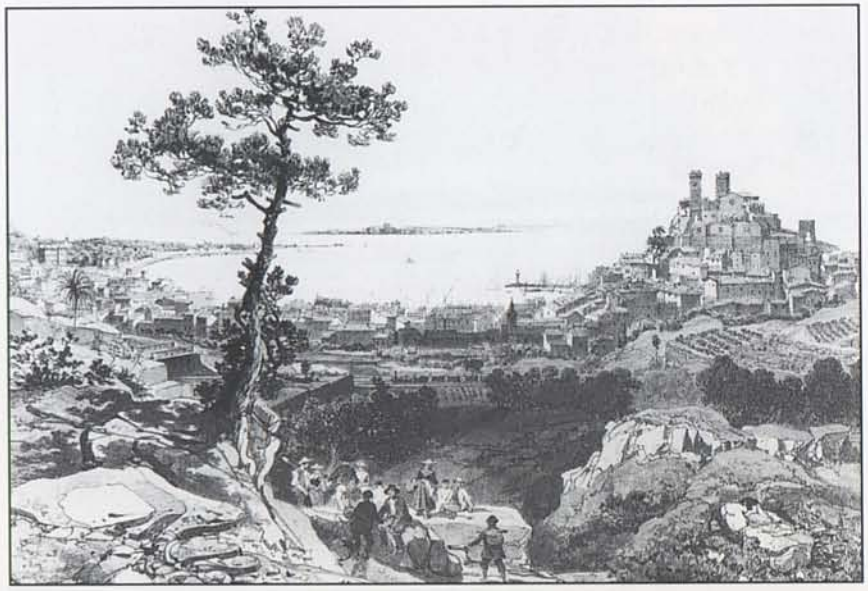

Everyone, from the Czarina Maria Alexandrovna to the Prince of Wales, Queen Victoria, the Bourbon family of Sicily, Parma and Orleans, the kings of Sweden and Norway, and not forgetting the Rothschilds were keen to spend winter in Cannes, already a "special place"

Since the founding of the Yacht Club in 1859, the most prestigious yachts have competed with one another in the bay. So many crowned heads used to take part in the "International Cannes Regattas" that the first "Royal Regatta" was organised in 1931.

Among the thirty or so hotels Mr. Henri Ruhl has built along the coast, the Carlton, under construction from 1910 to 1912, is one of the most famous and has received an incredible array of celebrities, such as La Belle Otero, Cary Grant, Orson Welles, Michèle Morgan, Mussolini and General de Gaulle.

Lastly, the Croisette, between the Casino built by Henri Ruhl in 1907 and the Palm Beach summer casino inaugurated in 1929, remains the most international promenade in the world ; the "showcase" of Cannes. It follows the curve of the bay along 3 km of flowered gardens and lawns planted with palm trees.

As a shrine of pleasure and sophistication, luxury and prestige, Cannes became a legend in symbolising what the poet Stephen Liégard was to call "La Côte d'Azur"

In just over a century, Cannes became a lively, elegant town of world-wide renown where nothing was too much trouble to satisfy the needs and tastes of an international clientele.

CANNES TODAY

In the heart of Southern Europe, Cannes today is at an international crossroad where the excellent communication places it just a few hours from a great number of European capitals.

Cannes has become the emblem of a dynamic region with its sights set on the 21st century.

With Aérospatiale and Sophia-Antipolis, the leading European technical park, the future is being built here and experienced on a day-today basis.

Thanks to the International Film Festival, which each year attracts stars from the whole world, Cannes has a mythical image which makes it the most well-known French town in the world after Paris.

Prestige and international expertise function together to meet business and leisure travel requirements, which represent the major economic activity in Cannes.

In the heart of this site of great natural beauty stands the Palais des Festivals and Congress centre, equipped with all ultra-modern facilities, which has enabled Cannes to become one of the most important conference towns.

Companies from all over the world hold their conferences and conventions here, taking advantage of a setting ideal for rest and relaxation. Among the recreational and sporting activities, the casinos, golf courses (with the International Opens) and sailing (with the Royal Regattas) are assuming an increasingly important place.

CANNES, THE TOWN OPEN TO THE WORLD

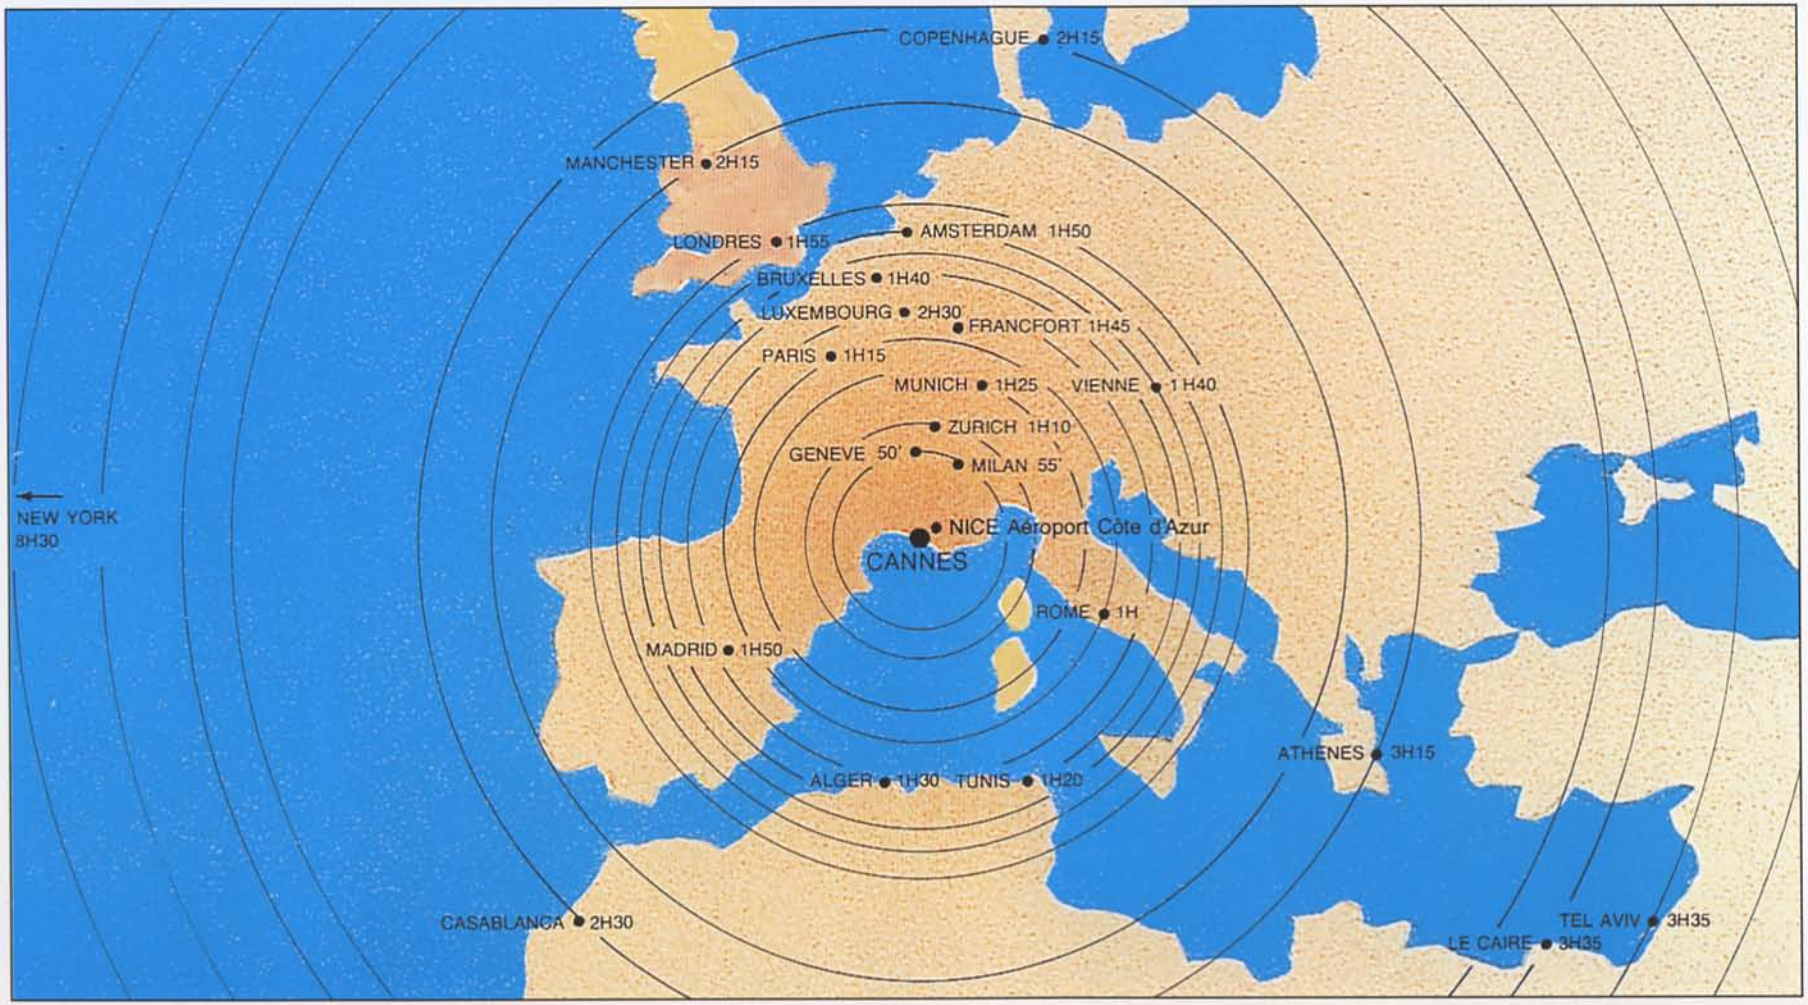

The Côte d'Azur has the second largest international airport in France, linking it by direct flights to the main European towns (Amsterdam, Athens, Barcelona, Berlin, Brussels, Copenhagen, Dusseldorf, Frankfurt, Geneva, Lisbon, London, Luxemburg, Madrid, Milan, Munich, Paris, Rome, Stockholm, Stuttgart, Venise, Vienna, Zurich, etc.) North America, New-York, Atlanta, Africa and the Middle East. A real air bridge between Paris and Cannes with a flight every hour, every day places the capital 1 1/2 hours from Cannes (plane + helicopter). The airport, 27 km away, can also be reached by a regular shuttle bus service via the motorway (30 mins). Cannes also has an airport for business travel and luxury tourism - Cannes Mandelieu (the leading airport in France for private aircraft). Cannes is also accessible by rail, using the main international trains and by car via the A8 Esterel motorway.

A CONFERENCE CENTRE DOWNTOWN

In the heart of the town, overlooking the sea, between the old part of Cannes and the Croisette promenade, the Palais des Festivals and Congress centre is located a few minutes walk from most of the hotels, shops and busy local streets. It is one of the rare congress centres in the world of this size where everyone can walk from their hotel to the meeting places, while taking advantage of the delights of an exceptional bay. Choose Cannes and its Palais des Festivals and you offer your clients, your colleagues and yourself, the prestige of a unique place in Europe to work, communicate, prepare, show, see, hear, motivate ... and relax. It's a way to combine business with pleasure in a town of a human scale, offering the logistics of a capital city and benefiting from an international expertise. Since the creation of the International Film Festival, stars have continued to come to Cannes, staying in these same hotels which have become experts in the "art of entertaining well"

A CONFERENCE CENTRE EQUAL TO YOUR MEETINGS

The Architecture

The unique location and exceptional adaptability of the Palais des Festivals make it an unrivalled conference centre in France and Europe. Multiple combinations of rooms and exhibition spaces are available to those organising conferences, exhibitions or seminars enabling "tailor-made" solutions. It has a unique asset : each of the two big auditoria has its own entrance which enables organisers to have greater efficiency with regard to signing and safety.

CANNES, PRESTIGIOUS SITES FOR EXCEPTIONAL VISITS

The Suquet, the "real" Cannes.

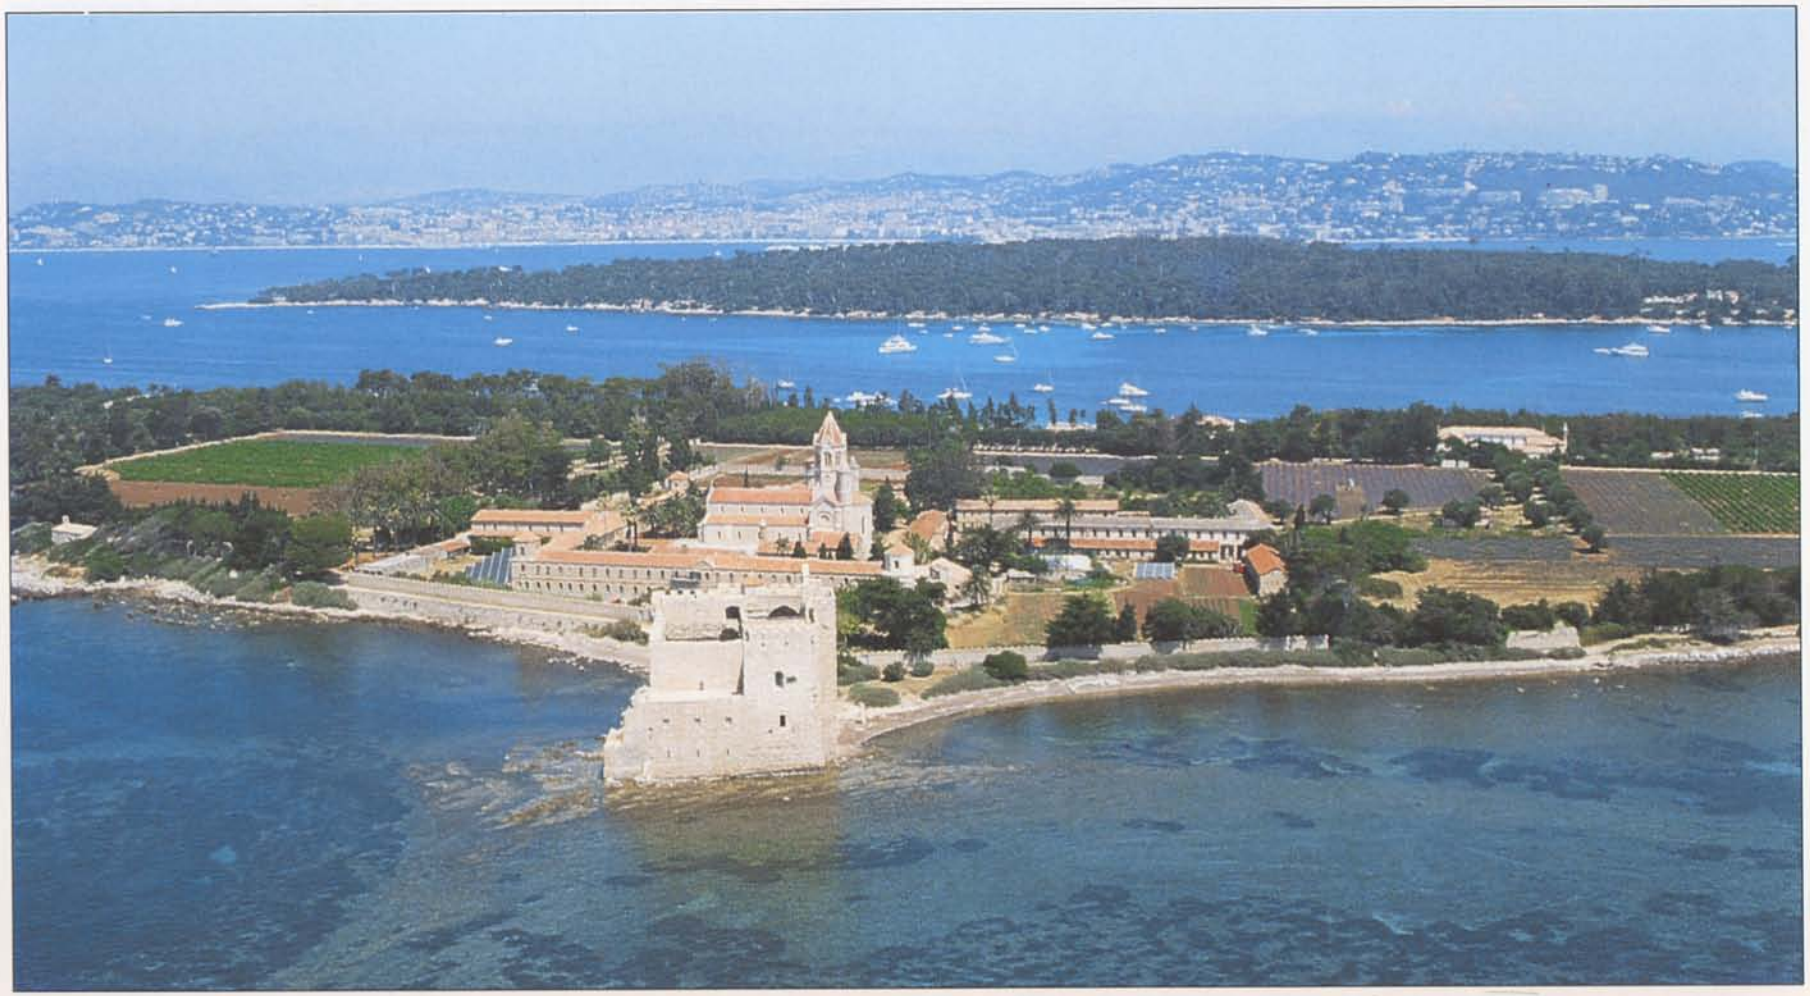

Near the town hall, at the top of the Suquet hill, the place de la Castre is located in the old Cannes chateau, built in the 11 and 12th centuries.
It can receive : 200 to 300 guests for a cocktail party.

A fortress of ideas for your days and evenings.

Built on the Ile Sainte-Marguerite under Richelieu, transformed by Vauban, the Fort Royal was the hideaway of the mysterious man with the "Iron Mask" from 1687 to 1698. Dominating the Lérins islands off the bay of Cannes, an ideal spot for receptions just a few miles from the Croisette.
Capacity :
Bazaine terrace : 200 persons.
Large square of the Fort : 3000 persons.

A BUSINESS PARADISE

The Villa Domergue

Its design based on a Florentine model, the Villa Domergue stands in the middle of grounds where the whiteness goes well with the pink stone of the region.

There are numerous fountains, huge rooms with very high ceilings, decorated with old paintings and the Master's own work.

The Villa, now belonging to the town of Cannes, is extremely spacious, achieving a rare sophistication ; an ideal spot for your prestigious dinners.

Reception capacity :
70 people for dinner inside.
200 people for dinner outside.
(up to 300 people for a cocktail party).

INCENTIVE TRIPS

The Bay of Cannes and the Lérins islands are truly magical spots and a natural destination for incentive trips.
The cinema industry rewards the best actors and directors in Cannes. What could be more natural than companies choosing this destination to reward their best teams ?
Cannes is not just rich in scenery and natural beauty, it also has talented, high quality professionals who know how to turn your dreams into a reality. Hotel managers, ground operators, organisers, transportation companies, professionals in entertainment and restaurant owners know that the motivation trip must be successful, imaginative and friendly.

The town, which had the talent to create the International Film Festival has all the resources to make your stay a success. Decide on the event and carry on your work with your mind at rest ; the team from the Cannes Convention Office knows your requirements, they will guide you and advise you to make your next incentive trip a success. Just dream and let us do the rest.

SOME THEMES

Film Festival Evening

In the Palais des Festival which holds the International Film Festival each year, take part in a gala evening in the Ambassadeurs room, decorated with posters and photos of the stars. Re-live the ceremony where the Palme d'Or award is presented.

Iron Mask evening

Go back in time and discover the atmosphere of the 17 th century in the Fort Royal of the Sainte-Marguerite island where formerly, the mysterious prisoner with the Iron Mask was imprisoned.

Treasure Hunt on the Islands

Well known to sailors in times gone by, the Lérins islands are rich in history, architectural remains and legends.
A treasure hunt would be a good opportunity to discover the Sainte-Marguerite island with its Fort Royal which today is home to the "Musée de la Mer" (maritime museum) and the Saint-Honorat island with its Monastery, owned by the cistercian monks which houses a neo-Roman church and a lapidary museum.

Italian evening in the Villa Domergue

The villa-museum of the artist Jean-Gabriel Domergue (1889-1962) offers an idyllic setting for certain theme evenings.
Today, it houses the most beautiful works of art and the gardens are decorated with magnificent sculptures created by his wife.

Evenings in typical restaurants in the old part of Cannes

Le Suquet is the history of Cannes.
With its narrow streets, it covers the former "Castrum de Canoïs" founded by the Romans.
Dine in the typical atmosphere of old Cannes with provençal folk dancing.

Off Shore race

Along the Esterel and its mountains as far as Saint-Tropez, you will discover on this outing the many different places on the coast, Cannes, La Napoule, le Cap Roux, Le Trayas, Saint-Raphaël. Have lunch in Saint Tropez and why not return by helicopter ?

Regattas in the bay

Cannes is one of the prime spots in the Mediterranean for sailing.
Since 1859, the most prestigious yachts compete with one another in the bay.
Today, the "Royal Regattas" have become the undisputed event for all the elegant, high-class racing boats.
Organise your regatta in the bay with the assistance of professionals.

Beach Party

Dine on the beaches with fireworks and laser show.

INTERNATIONAL

Martine Antier and Alexandrine Venezia have managed to impose their style in the space of just a few years : they favour typical British efficiency and method, combined with the refinement of old European civilizations. Martine Antier and Alexandrine Venezia gained their experience in official circles in the United States and in France and they have adapted it to suit their clients' needs, thus creating a new concept : the art of organization.

A NEW CONCEPT :
THE ART
