Speech by the Secretary for Justice, Ms. Elsie Leung, JP at the Opening Ceremony of the 36th National Convention of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber on Friday, 21st September 2001

National President Tang, distinguished guests, ladies & gentlemen,

I am delighted and honoured to be invited to this Opening Ceremony of the National Convention of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber. Over the years, the National Convention has been the most important annual event of the Chamber, in which members are gathered together to discuss issues affecting both the Chamber and the community at large, as well as to elect President and executive officers of the Chamber for the coming year. It is therefore a great honour for me to be invited to officiate at the Opening of this important event.

The Hong Kong Junior Chamber has a history of more than half a century, and is renowned as a leadership development and service organisation in Hong Kong. Since its inception in 1950, the Chamber has been organising numerous projects in its four areas of activities, namely individual development, community development, international affairs and business opportunity. Through active participation in these projects, members of the Chamber not only serve in different meaningful ways the community they belong, but also get the benefits of realising their own potential, improving their leadership skills, as well as establishing useful contacts both locally and internationally to enhance their careers. Indeed, the Chamber has made significant contributions to the development of our community leaders, many of whom are now outstanding professionals and prominent personalities with distinguished achievements in their respective professions.

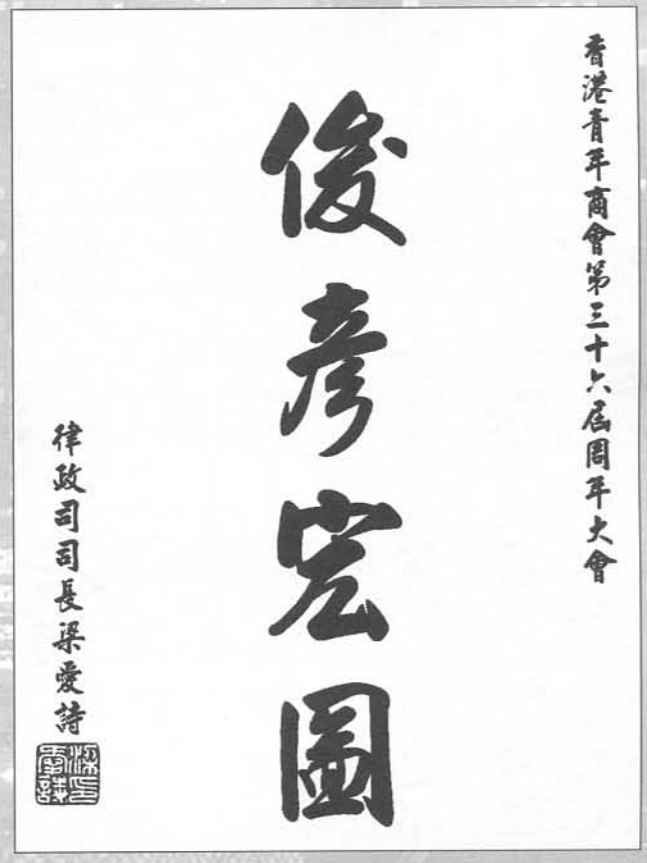

Among the many meaningful projects and activities launched by the Chamber over the years, the "Ten Outstanding Young Persons" Selection is no doubt the most prestigious one up to the present moment. This project, which aims to give formal recognition to those aspiring young people who have excelled in both their careers and their commitment to community services, provides an incentive to all young people for seeking continuous personal development and for better serving the community. The launching and continual running of this regular project, which has been increasingly recognized by the general public in the recent years, have vividly demonstrated the Chamber's initiatives and efforts in the pursuit of the Chamber's major emphasis theme, i.e. "Develop our future leaders, Excel to new millennium".

The theme for this year's Convention is "E-ship for e-Wave". As we have already entered into the cyber age, daily transactions are done at a cyber speed. The use of information technology in our daily life has thus become a must. As such, we have to continuously update ourselves with the necessary knowledge on information technology, so as to keep pace with the fast changing world resulting from the continuous advancement in information technology. Likewise, we have to equip ourselves with all the necessary resources and skills through "life-long learning", so that we can cope with the new challenges of the economic restructuring brought about by the globalization of the world economy and technology changes. At the end of the Convention, I am sure that you will have been enlightened with many useful ideas and information, helping you to acquire the necessary expertise and leadership to become a competent "captain", to sail your ship through the "rocky waves" in the present economic climate. I am fully confident that, with our joint efforts, we will go through the economic restructuring with renewed strengths, and take the economy of Hong Kong to new heights.

Finally, may I wish you all a fruitful Convention in the next two days. Thank you.

Elsie Leung, JP
Secretary for Justice

MESSAGE FROM

• CONVENTION DIRECTOR •

It is my great pleasure to welcome all the guests and delegates of the 36th National Convention. Today, we are most honored to have The Hon. Elsie Leung Oi Sie, JP Secretary for Justice as our Guest of Honor.

This year's National Convention is remarkably important as we are in the new millennium and the ever-changing environment implies the co-existence of threat and opportunity. We have therefore resolved to bring this issue to our Convention under the theme "E-ship for e-wave" - As a competent captain who sails his ship through rocky waves, we should equip ourselves with entrepreneurial expertise and leadership to navigate our course in the vibrant electronic cyberspace and the physical world.

Apart from the theme seminar, we have organized several training seminars on various topics to cater for the different aspirations and interests of the delegates. Besides, extra efforts have been expended by the organizing committee in promoting the events of the Convention to our future leaders - the young undergraduates. This is of mutual benefit to both their future development and our substantive growth.

As family support is vital to the success of every individual, we have the idea of "bringing the family into JC" for long and it is now the time to put it into practice in our National Convention. To encourage the attendance of our families, we have added some new elements in this year's Convention, such as a comfortable venue and various entertaining activities.

Of course, the quality of the Convention is most important. The early dispatch of the Convention Manual Report and the access of Convention news at the web site provide our members additional time and channel to evaluate the performance of our organization and to make recommendations for our advancement. The smooth running of every assembly ensures effective and efficient meeting. Every special feature such as the background music, kick-off gimmick and powerpoint presentation adds extra attraction to the Convention. All these elements echo our mission of bringing our local Convention to the international level with better quality.

It is the unfailing support of various parties and individuals involved that makes our mission accomplishable. We have to thank the co-organizers of the seminars, exhibitors, ISA of HKU and our media, printing and souvenir sponsors for their provision of services and products. Besides, we are also grateful to have support from the National Board and the 18 local chapters, particularly NVP Cecelia, Caroline, Dennis, Duncan, Joseph, PNP Justin, PNP Edmond, NP Michelle, NGLC Tony and NSG Lydia.

Last but not the least, we would like to thank the organizing committee, Past Presidents and all members of Lion Rock Junior Chamber for their commitment and dedication that make our dream come true. This is our honor to host the most important event of HKJC in our 30 years of establishment and this is the dream of all members

I would like to take this opportunity to wish you all an enjoyable time in the Convention and every success in your life.

MESSAGE FROM

• NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF • HONG KONG JUNIOR CHAMBER

It gives me great pleasure in welcoming you all to the 36th National Convention of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber.

The National Convention is our annual highlight. It is the time for us to review and evaluate our accomplishments in the past months; time to plan our future strategies and directions; and time to witness the election of our year 2002 executives.

This year, we have adopted "Entrepreneurship for Positive Change" as our theme. Concurrent with this, Junior Chamber International has also adopted "Entrepreneurs in Action" as the marketing theme for the next five years. This reflects the importance of "Entrepreneurship" in our global community. In reviewing the programs launched by our organization in the past months, I am very pleased to see that the spirits and attributes of entrepreneurship have been strongly demonstrated in every aspect. I am confident that this spirit of entrepreneurship will continue to grow in our organization, and ignite our path towards creating positive change in the community.

Under the emphasis theme on "Entrepreneurship", we have put special efforts on Leadership Training and Entrepreneurship Program for our members. In this regard, various training programs, including Train-the-Trainers course PRIME, Vanguard Leaders, and Basic & Advanced Leadership Management Programs were organized. In addition, a Business Opportunities Series Project was successfully launched during the year. With an entrepreneurial project management approach between National and Chapters, we were able to utilize our resources effectively and efficiently, and maximized the publicity and impact of the project. We also continue to implement such programs as the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection, and Digital 21- Power for Youth.

I'm sure that you will agree with me that 2001 has been a challenging year for Hong Kong in all walks of life. With the structural transformation of our economy resulting in corporate downsizing and unemployment, running a voluntary organization is by no means an easy task. However, I believe that in such times of difficulty, it is vitally important for young people to equip ourselves, to learn to shoulder more responsibilities, and to show more concern to the current affairs of our beloved Hong Kong and China. The future is in our own hand. It is our responsibilities to shape our future. It is our commitment to make Hong Kong a better place to live.

Looking forward, with China's accession to the World Trade Organization and the Mainland's strategy of developing the western region, the opportunities that lie ahead of us are numerous. Given our geographical location, our knowledge, our experience, and our infrastructure, Hong Kong is well placed to reap the benefits of a growing Mainland market. As a youth development organization, I believe that we should play a strong role in cultivating our youngsters' understanding and knowledge of Mainland China, and advocating a stronger sense of patriotism to our country. Developing stronger and closer links with other youth organizations in Mainland China will be essential. I am sure that the Hong Kong Junior Chamber will continue to contribute our efforts in this respect.

In closing I would like to thank our Guest of Honor The Secretary for Justice The Honourable Elsie Leung, J.P. and all our distinguished guests for your unfailing support to our organization. Also, I wish to extend my deepest gratitude to the hosting chapter of this National Convention, Lion Rock Junior Chamber and Convention Director Ellen Tsang for all their hard work and contributions in the past months.

Lastly, may I wish every one of you a fruitful and productive National Convention. Thank you very much.

MESSAGE FROM

• PRESIDENT of JUNIOR CHAMBER INTERNATIONAL •

As Junior Chamber International President for the year 2001, I am delighted to greet President Michelle Tang and the members of Hong Kong Junior Chamber on the occasion of the Convention that is schedule September 21-23 at the Regal Airport Hotel.

Junior Chamber has been expanding its area of influence, successfully carrying out countless programs, projects and ideas. We are in more countries and cities than anyone ever imagined at our founding. But although we have increased the number of our organizations, we have not built up our membership. Now we must concentrate our efforts and leadership on this one area.

Why should a young person join Junior Chamber or continue to be a member? Junior Chamber can make a significant difference in a member's life by providing networks and health benefits, and preventing occupational burn out. Junior Chamber's community service and business experiences can change your life. The testimony of members from around the world shows how profound and rich the benefits can be for anyone who joins and participates.

Growth is not an option! In an increasing competitive globe, innovation is not only valuable, but also indispensable. The principles that have governed both business and society for more than 200 years are becoming obsolete. Organizations must radically transform themselves to survive and become more competitive. We should continually scan the environment and develop new structures, processes and working relationships.

The JCI Best Business Plan was created for that purpose. There are two categories- Business (profit) and Social Entrepreneur (non-profit). Junior Chamber International (JCI), Inc. is inviting young people under 40 to take part in this JCI Best Business Plan of the World Competition. Contenders must have business plans for the creation of a new enterprise, endeavor, or social activity to create positive change.

Our predecessors worked very hard to leave us the vibrant organization to which we are proud to belong today. Now it is our turn to ensure that our organization-more vital and relevant than ever-is properly bequeathed to future generations, born and unborn. Let us work together so that we leave a legacy for 2002 that will make a positive difference.

Entrepreneurs in Action.

MESSAGE FROM

• EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT of • JUNIOR CHAMBER INTERNATIONAL

First of all, allow me to congratulate each and every member of Hong Kong JC, China, in time for its 36th Annual National Convention to be held at Regal Airport Hotel from September 21st to 23rd, 2001. As the JCI Executive Vice President, I do believe that this biggest event will mark an auspicious moment as we continue to build a stronger and better organization.

We recently concluded the JCI Daegu ASPAC Conference with a huge success. Once again, I offer my sincere thanks to HK JC, China for assisting me with my duties as Conference Chairman and more particularly thank the COC for actively participating in the event.

In retrospect, almost one full year has passed and we, the NOMs in Area B are about to celebrate what we have achieved to date at our respective national conventions. We have studied the past and learned from our trials and errors. Now is the time to fully engage in the discovery of new way to build the Junior Chamber on a more solid basis, changing our old paradigm and brining new ideas.

I want you to take charge of this mission. This year will be gone sooner than you think, but what you do for the organization will remain. We are at the threshold of the New Millennium that calls for our voice and action to prevail. Junior Chamber is the organization where every achievement is possible. Through Junior Chamber, our members become future leaders.

Again, now is the time for these hundreds of thousands of young future leaders to come forward, to actively pursue the virtue of the organization and to bring the fresh and new spirits into the organization.

Wishing you a most prosperous event as Entrepreneurs in Action!

• HONORARY LIFE PRESIDENT •

In keeping with the universal practice the Hong Kong Junior Chamber also holds its Annual Convention every year to entrust a new group of young persons with its leadership for the year to follow.

It is right and proper that it should be done to give an ever-growing number of young members the opportunity to lead the Chamber to new heights of achievements while growing in strength and experience.

I congratulate the new President and the Board of Directors not only in the National Chamber but also all those holding office in every LOM here.

There is now the responsibility for everyone to do even better as Hong Kong moves forward in the new century.

MESSAGE FROM

• CHAIRMAN of BOARD of TRUSTEES •

National Convention is a big event of each year for us to review our performance as well as to set directions for the year following.

I see this, the "Evaluation", as the most important round in the CD Cycle that, we Jaycees are so familiar with. I remember the time when I joined the Jaycees, I was told that we were allowed to 'make mistakes'. Because everybody knew that we were a leadership development organization and that we learn from our experience in running community development projects. Our members won't learn unless we evaluate our work in a critical manner - so that mistakes could be identified and not be repeated.

During my past 6 years with the Board of Trustees, I have witnessed projects of various sizes and quality launched by Chapters. Regardless of project quality, as long as evaluation meetings were held, our members would have learnt and Trust Fund subsidy justified.

I believe the more innovative, bigger scale and deeper member involvement the projects are, the more our members can learn and their spirits raised. They have the further side benefit of enhancing the standing of the Jaycees in the community. The Trust Fund is not short of money to support large-scale projects, only that you have to justify it to the Board of Trustees.

Wish we all have a successful National Convention!

MESSAGE FROM

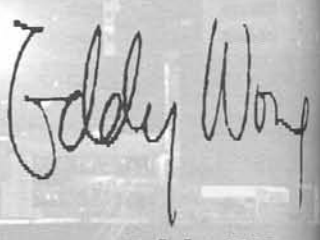

• LONG RANGE PLANNING COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN •

National Convention is an important event for all JC members, especially in this day when we emphasize on "Back to Basic" as mandatory training for our members. No matter what theme we choose for the Convention, it is our obligation to attend the National Convention in order to know what happened and what will happen in our beloved organization. I strongly believe that all members who attend the National Convention will learn something if they really pay full attention to all details or ask advice from their senior members.

JC provides opportunities for us to grow depending whether you are smart enough to grasp them. I have witnessed different types of members in the past decade. Some who treasure our opportunities become very successful in their personal development while some who take the chance lightly gradually leave the organization with not much changes in their lives. To be a smart JC member, I think the Convention Theme this year will definitely provide abundant information for you to upgrade yourself. My sincere advice to all participants of this Convention is to participate as much as possible. You will definitely gain more than your time investment.

On behalf of the Long Range Planning Committee, I send my heartfelt thanks for the organizing committee for hosting this successful convention. Your dedication and hard work will eventually create good result. In addition, I also wish all the new leaders of this organization would uplift the JC spirits to another new height in Hong Kong in 2002.

I have the pleasure to send my congratulations to the success of the 36th National Convention.

The theme of this year is "E-ship for e-Wave" which is tightly related to the new e-era. The National Board leads us the way to the new trend of the world and I am sure every one of us keeps the pace with the modern world.

Thing are changing fast for the new, but we do not forget the past. One of the major purposes of Senior Member Club is to unite the forces of our Jaycees alumni to support our beloved organization. Foundation work has been done effectively. New strategy will be developed to make the Club much stronger and solid. I am looking forward to getting more alumni to join force together.

We are delighted to have the Honorable Elsie Leung Oi-sie, J.P., the Secretary for Justice, to be our Guest of Honour, and other VIPs, sponsors and various organizations to join us at the Opening Ceremony.

This is our first time to host a National Convention over the past 30 years, and we have many fresh ideas and new looks for this action packed two and a half day event.

This Convention covers all the four areas of JC opportunities. The Assemblies and forums, caucus and election sessions, theme and training seminars, charity and trade booths, nights and parties, luncheon and banquet all provide good chances and experience for you to enrich your JC life in the area of Individual Development, Community Development, International Affairs and Business Opportunity.

A theme seminar "Wave after Wave, Peak after Peak" and six training seminars in lifestyle, children education, images and fashion are offered to satisfy the diversified interests of delegates and attendants.

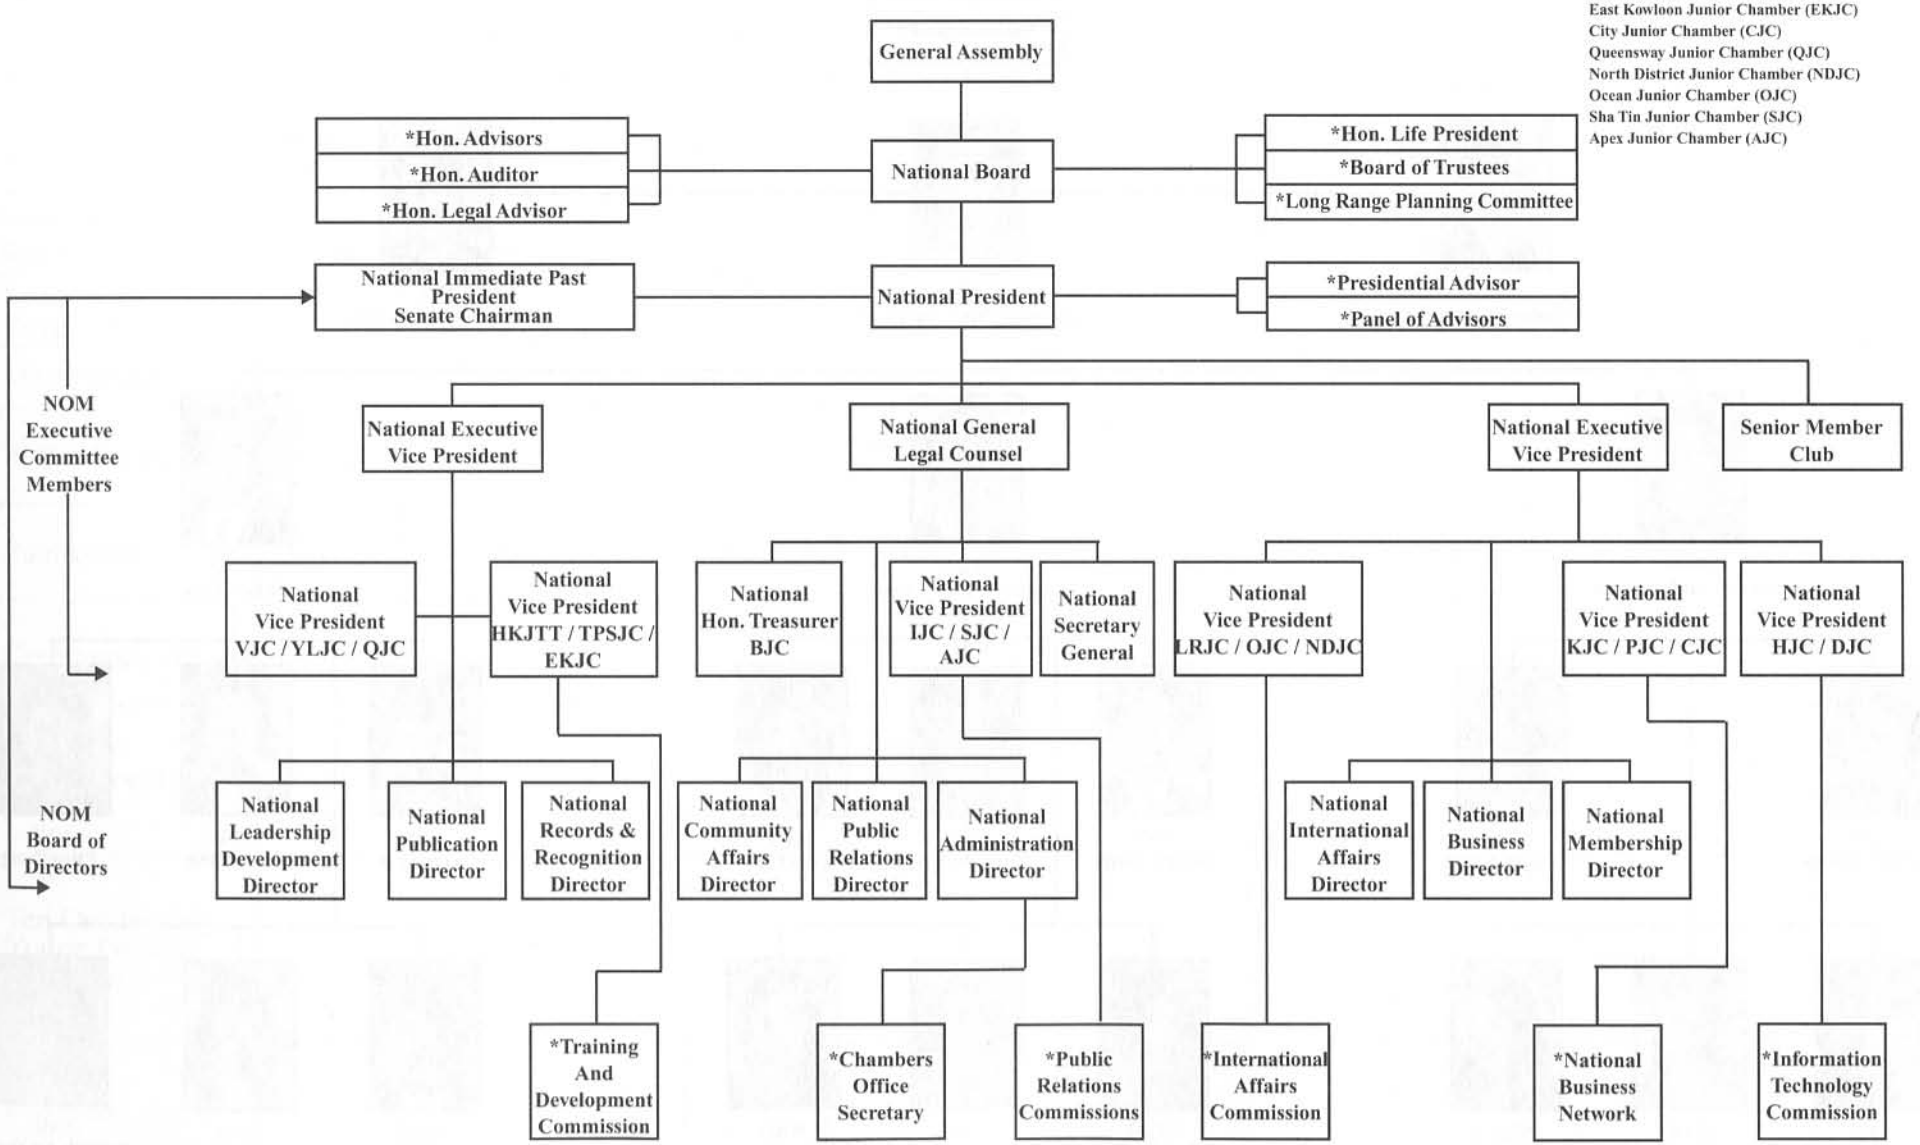

I would like to take this opportunity to thank for the full support from the National Board and all local Chapters. My sincere thanks also go to the members, advisors and helpers of the Convention Organizing Committee. In the community development area, the project on "Special Learning Disabilities" (SLD) has been jointly organized with The Boys' and Girls' Clubs Association of Hong Kong since 1999. This year, a series of training programs has been launched to volunteers to equip them to maintain and develop the website "sld2000.com", which arouses public awareness of SLD and provides a forum for educators, social workers, and parents to exchange their views and experiences on SLD.

In order to strengthen work in the Tung Chung area, Apex has built linkage with Tung Chung Islands District Council and other organizations serving the area. Concrete work this year includes a series of training on "Project Management Skills" to the young people in Tung Chung.

美康月餅

多一份關懷嘅月餅

- 美康金果健康月餅（不含膽固醇）
- 美康金果蛋黃月餅（低膽固醇）

傳統月餅給人油膩而不健康的感覺，美康月餅除保存傳統風味，又能夠照顧閣下健康，饋贈親友，既表濃情厚意，更添一份關懷。

美康月餅由達雅美康營養師小組精心研製，採用金果（日本南瓜）作餡料，清怡健康，亦保留傳統風味。

南瓜，又名金果，《本草綱目》記載南瓜能「益心歛肺」。南瓜含有豐富的乙型胡蘿蔔素、維他命 C，具防止癌細胞的抗氧化作用，能有助提高身體的抵抗能力。南瓜的食用纖維相當高，有效預防結腸癌。我們秘製的南瓜蓉熱量、脂肪比其他傳統餡料，如蓮蓉及豆蓉等為低，且不含膽固醇，特別適合一眾注重健康，追求健美的男女享用。

- 低膽固醇
- 少油
- 低糖
- 低熱量
- 高纖維
- 美味
