JCI ASPAC SENATE NEWSLETTER
2008 2nd Issue October 2008

MESSAGE from President Senator Ryuichiro Tsuchiya

Kon-nichiwa from Nagano.

I am proud of sending the message to you as JCI ASPAC Senate President at Delhi World Congress held in this Asia and Pacific Area. Our friends, the members of JCI India, host the Congress based on their great efforts. The Congress will succeed the history and the legend of JCI, and will be very meaningful because it will start to the future here.

We had the very successful Asia and Pacific Senate Conference in Jun at Busan, Korea based upon the great efforts of ASPAC Senate President Kang Shin Sung, seniors and current members of JCI Korea. I really appreciate for their efforts. Current members are trying to make their communities to BE BETTER as young entrepreneurs, and seniors keep the relations with JCI to make their lives better. Because any individual cannot make it by him/herself, we should make our network wider by gathering at Congress and Conferences to develop our societies better.

In 2009, my hometown Nagano will host ASPAC in Japan. We studied the success of past conferences, and are trying to manage the Conference with Nagano style. We will work together with the Chairman, who will be elected during this Congress, to make a wonderful conference. I really wish that you will participate and enjoy the conference. I am looking forward to seeing all of you at Nagano.

At the conclusion, I wish you are enjoying this Delhi World Congress with the great success.

Best regards,

Senator Ryuichiro Tsuchiya
President
2008-2009 JCI ASPAC Senate

MESSAGE from Immediate Past President Senator Kang Shin Sung

Dear Fellow Senators,

Let me begin by expressing my heartfelt gratitude for your full support during my office year and your attendance to the 58th 2008 JCI Asia-Pacific Conference held in Busan, Korea last May.

Indeed, it is a great honor for me to deliver these congratulatory remarks on the occasion of the New Delhi Congress to be held from Nov 4 through 9, 2008.

I think all of you would agree that people-to-people exchanges are vital in cementing friendly relationships among the JCI members from all around the world. In this aspect, I do believe that each and every one of you can contribute to promoting cultural and personal exchanges so that we can minimize our differences based on mutual understanding and respect.

Therefore, I would like to take this opportunity to ask you to attend the New Delhi Congress and continue to render your constant support for the development of this wonderful organization by promoting mutual friendship.

Last but not least, I wish all the best luck in 2008 and have a wonderful time with your JC friends from all around the world.

Thank you!

Senator Kang Shin Sung
Immediate Past President
2008-2009 JCI ASPAC Senate

MESSAGE from JCI Honorary Advisor Senator Sonny Yu

I am happy to see the release of the 2nd issue of ASPAC Senate 2008 Newsletter.

This year, ASPAC Senate had proudly organized 2 successful events, The ASPAC Senate Golf Invitational and a wonderful ASPAC senate Conference in Busan, Korea.

Through our Newsletter, we may now share the joy in the accomplishments of Jaycee movement in area B and also share the fun of Jaycees activities which have been made by the hard working and dedicated Jaycees and Senators.

In this Congress in New Delhi, let's exchange our friendship and ideas, and let this experience rekindle our joint efforts to support Area B and JCI in its goals of leadership development for world peace.

Special thanks to the Secretary General and Chief Editor Michelle Tang for her great effort and devotion for preparing the Senate Newsletter.

Under the outstanding leadership of President Ryuichiro Tsuchiya, ASPAC Senate group would definitely has another prosperous year in 2009.

Wishing you a successful and memorable time in New Delhi.

Senator Sonny Yu
JCI Honorary Advisor

MESSAGE from Presidential Advisor Senator Dr. Dato Tan

This year's JCI World Congress is held at the beautiful city of New Delhi, capital of India, which is the second most populous country on earth. It fast become a rising enconomic power house.

It is therefore befitting that JCI members and JCI Senators spend a week here to understand the enconomic and social environment of India. The bondage that JCI India members can make with the other members of the JCI world community will have lasting effects that will endure way beyond this Congress.

JCI members as the future leaders of the world can make abiding friendships that will transcend one day into enconomic, commercial and social co-operation to imporve the lives and well being of our international community. We, the JCI Senators in Asia Pacific, can play a supportive and encouraging role to bring about this useful networking and contribute in our small way towards the betterment of the myriad societies we come from.

I wish JCI India and its hosting LOM a fruitful and memorable meeting.

Senator Dato' Dr. TAN Hian-Tsin

Outstanding Senator JCI Japan Past President Senator Taro Aso Elected Japan's Prime Minister

Senator Taro Aso, 1978 JCI Japan President and Japan's former foreign minister, was chosen as president of the Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) and was successfully elected as Japan's Prime Minister on Wednesday, September 24, 2008. He took over the reins from Yasuo Fukuda.

Senator Aso won 351 of 525 valid votes cast by LDP members of parliament and representatives of local party branches. Economics Minister Kaoru Yosano was a distant second with 66 votes, and former defense minister Yuriko Koike placed third with only 46 votes.

JCI Involvement

Senator Aso's involvement in JCI has been long and exemplary. In his speeches as well as in his profiles on the web, Senator Aso proudly mentions his post as JCI Japan President in 1978.

In spite of his numerous and pressing obligations, Senator Aso has taken the time again and again to contribute to JCI, meet with past and current JCI officers and members, and talk about the organization. In 2007, he took part in the JCI World Congress in Antalya, Turkey, where he mingled with delegates and helped present The Outstanding Young Persons of the World (TOYP) trophies to TOYP honorees.

In January 2008, Senator Aso met with JCI Japan and JCI international officers, including JCI World President Graham Hanlon and JCI Secretary General Edson A. Kodama, at the JCI Nagano Reception during the JCI Japan Convention in Kyoto.
