The JCI Creed

We believe:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;

That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;

That economic justice can best be won by free men

through free enterprise;

That Government should be of laws rather than of men;

That earth's great treasure lies in human personality; and

That service to humanity is the best work of life.

History of the Creed

The year was 1946; the place, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, U.S.A.; the event, the United States Junior Chamber National Convention. Visitors came form Canada, Mexico, South America, Europe and the Philippine Islands. It was here that the idea of a JCI Creed was born.

Past President of the Ohio Junior Chamber and National Vice President of the United States Junior Chamber C. William Brownfield realized at this convention that the organization did not have a Creed. He was inspired by the devotion of Junior Chamber members "to the purpose of serving mankind in a thousand different ways, right down at the grass roots where freedom lives or dies."

Brownfield saw Junior Chamber as "the potential for a new force in the world, one capable of changing the balance between victory or defeat for our chosen way of life in a time of crisis."

The actual writing of the Creed took place in July 1946 during a drive from Brownfield's hometown of Columbus, Ohio, to his coal mine in New Lexington, a journey of about 75 minutes. He started that journey with a firm conviction in his mind to work on the Creed. It was during that trip that the following words came to mind and were put on paper:

The brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations.

Economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise.

Government should be of laws rather than of men.

Earth's great treasure lies in human personality.

Service to humanity is the best work of life.

In 1950 the first line, "We believe that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life." was added.

Since the Creed was written, Junior Chamber members all over the world recite the Creed at local, national and internationl meetings and functions. During that time there has been much discussion of the interpretation of the Creed. The author himself said, "Every Member is free to interpret the Creed in the light of his own conscience."

Message from National President

It was indeed a very exciting moment for me when it turned Jan 1, 2003. My Board of Directors and myself are ready to serve you!

My Presidential Theme is "Entrepreneurship for Positive Change". I sincerely wish we can think and act like entrepreneurs, adopt an adaptable disposition towards change and take bold actions to improve our organization. I challenge you to make Junior Chamber movement more visible in the community and our organization enjoyable and valuable for all members.

Do you still remember what I said in the Convention? Let me recap some of the important points.

"...It is time we have to act like an entrepreneur and take bold actions. We need to be working much more proactively to break away and create positive change. Change is not a necessity; it is a matter of survival....

....We need to make our organization valuable to our members, both new and experienced. We need to enhance the quality of programs and expand the learning opportunities for all members. We need to create an enjoyable environment for all levels of members....

....It is up to you and you all to make this an enjoyable organization. We need to work together, transpiring the boundaries of Chapters, transpiring the boundaries of National and Chapters...."

I still remember my promises very clearly and I hope you would support me as promised. Indeed, we need to work together. Our JC family needs each and everyone of you to be active and contribute to our beloved organization.

The first thing I request you to do this year is to introduce our wonderful organization to the friends around you. If you are enjoying your time here, it would be wonderful if you can share it with your friends. If you find there are things that needs to be improved, we would improve it together to make our organization enjoyable!

Within January, I have had ample opportunities to meet Board members and general members at Chapter functions. I would always hand out small gifts to the members - a JC member pin. And I always ask the officers and members to wear their pins in all occasions to show they are a member of an organization they are proud of. I do hope that we make it a practice since it is a simple and effective means to promote ourselves to the public.

In one of the Chapter functions, I was asked by a member how I managed a full time service as a National President. I replied saying I do not. I, like all of you have a career. I would spend time sailing, exercising, shopping and seeing friends. And I would have dinner with my father from time to time. I think it is a matter of fine balancing the life you lead. It is also a matter of wise time management that is always promoted among members. And this balance is a target that leaders like you should strive to achieve. As a matter of fact, quality involvement is not strictly measured by the amount of time spent. It is the attention and the heart you put in that is more important. And action is more important than words! Indeed, "Footprints on the sand of time is not made by sitting down." We have to act.

That is one of the reasons why our JCI President Bruce A. Rector ask us to call him Partner in Action. This year, Bruce dedicated his full attention to some 200,000 young people in the world and take the challenge of being the leader of a wonderful organization. Bruce is a very approachable person. He is also very proactive in promoting our organization to the community. He calls for more media exposure of our good work. And he cares much about our corporate identity. We'll read more about his visit to Hong Kong is this issue.

Turning to Inaugural Ceremony, I am extremely delighted to have the new format this year. Complements kept flowing in. I am particularly impressed with the congregation of members inducted in 2002 on the stage. I failed to count the number since there were so many of them. But when we think of this phenomenon, it tells us that our Board members are very green. On one hand, they are fresh and energetic. But on the other, they do not have the necessary JC experience to coach their subordinates and organizing committee. We do have to reflect upon this situation and provide the much needed training to our young leaders!

Last but not least, I wish every one a prosperous Year of the Goat!

INAUGURAL CEREMONY

Past National Presidents witnessed the installation of 2003 National Presiclent

The 2003 Inaugural Ceremony was overwhelmingly successful. I believe every participant had a very enjoyable 2-hour program.

I'm extremely delighted to announce that the fund raised was HK$350,184.00 and the total number of participants was 438. Record- breaking numbers indeed.

Prospective Member Induction Ceremony

2003 Ex. Com. performancing for Fund-raising

The event was commenced by the fantastic performance of 2002 TOYP Awardee Mr. Leung Kin Fung and his eight students from the Academy for Performing Arts. They performed a delightful piece of music from Vivaldi's Four Seasons (Spring) Concerto. Afterwards, we had a solemn and dignified installation of the posts of National President, National Board of Directors and Local Chapter Presidents and Board members. Following the installation was the performance of National Executive Committee members and the Encouragement Tae Kwon Do Association. They demonstrated various techniques from the martial art of Tae Kwon Do. It was an interesting and action packed performance that gained a loud round of applause. I was very pleased to see that a group of energetic, innovative and healthy National Board of Directors serving my beloved organization this year. Then, it came to the climax when over twenty prospective members, accompanied by their Presidents, stood on stage and had their induction ceremony. Immediately, over a hundred new members that were inducted in 2002 joined the congregation in the celebration. A ten-pound birthday cake with the JC logo on it was brought out together with the song, "Congratulations" playing. Last but not least, the final performance was by creative singer, Mr. Lee Kwok Cheung. He sang 3 wonderful songs for us. The Inaugural ceremony ran its course and ended successfully with joy in our hearts.

Taking this opportunity, I would like to extend my heartiest thanks to the National Board for giving me the chance of being the Chairperson of this event, my super and dedicated organizing committee members for their full support and tolerance and my mother Chapter for her all rounded support.

The Role Of National Immediate Past President Bridging HKJC Past And Present– an Indispensable Element Of Continuity

National Immediate Past President (NIPP) Senator Tony Chan - as a JC member, we have all heard of him. But did you know what the duties of NIPP are? Did you know what the role of NIPP is in the continuity of Junior Chamber (JC)? Let's find them all out from our interview with him.
- Amanda Wong, National Publication Director (Reporter)

1 Hello NIPP Tony, with so many years of experience in JC, how would you describe your journey here?

I would describe it as a "learning by doing" process. Before I joined JC, I focused all my energy on my nine-to-five work and was not even aware of my personal weaknesses or insufficient knowledge outside my work. After joining the JC family in 1989, I found that she provided me with lots of "job rotation" opportunities between different projects, from which I discovered a whole new world of interesting, fresh and novel ideas. This is the challenge of being a JC member. Also this is some valuable experience that I gain from JC.

The role of a JC member is quite different from that of a volunteer. Volunteer's job is very often task-oriented and concentrates more on a particular kind of product or service. In JC, not only do I enjoy the results we achieved together, but also my participation in each process. The "learning by doing" process strengthens my competencies in many ways. It enhances my interpersonal effectiveness that I need to employ in every project to work with my teammates. I regard this as a key to success in today's working environment. In addition, I find JC is in fact a "miniature society" - an institute providing all-rounded on-the-job training for everyone in it.

2 Could you tell us how we can benefit most from our JC life?

I would say we could do this through the "CEO" formula:

Commit to serve - When you make a promise, you should make sure that things really happen rather than providing just lip service, especially when you are serving in the Board.

Enjoy the learning experience - If you think something is hard to achieve, it would be harder than it may really be; instead we should take a positive attitude towards all difficulties in life and enjoy the learning process when we are in it.

Observe and evaluate - Besides the "learning by doing" process, you may learn from others by seizing every chance to observe and evaluate every activity you attend. No matter what the result may be, you can always learn from good examples of others and avoid repeating any mistakes that you observed.

3 All members know that National President (NP) is the chief representative of Hong Kong Junior Chamber (HKJC), but some members may not know what roles NIPP are playing. Could you enlighten us a bit more on this?

Besides sharing experience with the National Board and giving advice, NIPP will be the Senate Chairman, Nomination Chairman for National Executive Committee Election for the next year, Supervising Officer of Ten Outstanding Young Person Selection, Ex-offico member of Senior Member Club Executive Committee, and Advisor of AIESEC in Hong Kong.

4 You have mentioned that NIPP is an extension of your JC experience. Why would you say that?

NIPP shares experience with, gives advice and down-to-earth assistance to the NP and the National Board. NP and NIPP are very close partners inside the leading team of our National Board. It is necessary that the NP and NIPP communicate well with each other to ensure a seamless transition. And if we can achieve that, our business can run smoothly, efficiently and effectively.

At Chapter's level, each Chapter should have its own direction. This means a lot to the continuity of a Chapter. It is also very imperative that the President should know about the direction of the Chapter for not only in his/her term, but also for long term. It will be the best if the President is the Board Member the year before he/she takes up the post of President.

5 As a Past President of Apex Junior Chamber and the NIPP, would you share your experiences with Immediate Past Presidents (IPPs)? Could you let us know your way?

The experience gained from being a President brings me to the starting point of an advisor. As an IPP, sharing experience and providing advice to the President and the Board are the prime duties. On the other hand, I must say that IPPs are exposed to a brand new learning opportunity - how to play an advisory role.

For myself, I am going to play a "DISC":

Dare to follow - NIPP is, to everybody's sense, a leader; however at times it is also a follower. Not to dictate decisions, but to arrive at a consensus with the NP and National Board and to follow the decisions made. How to perform the role of a follower well is also part of the art of leadership.

Impartial comment - Nobody in the board has been an NP before, including the NP of the year. As such, NIPP should strive to give fair and constructive comments to ensure the organization is on the right track.

Set a good example (to share and to care) - I will endeavor to be a role model of the National Board. That includes active participation, delivering what I have promised and fulfilling my duties as the NIPP.

Continue to serve - After serving as NP for one year, I will continue my service to JC as the NIPP by working closely with the NP to ensure continuity of the organization.

6 Back to the organization, in your opinion, what roles should JC play in our society?

During the past years, JC has brought significant positive changes to our community through our members' involvement and our projects. We should be proud of this and continue to arouse awareness for the needy in our society. Through our projects, we serve the needs of our community and attract more people to join JC. On the other hand, we keep on providing training opportunities for our members and training up more and more commercial and community leaders.

7 Do you have any future plan for JC? How about planning for your own?

In the future, I will do something more for my mother Chapter. This includes playing an active role, but not manipulating it. I shall show my utmost support to the development of JC, introduce more new members to us and deliver trainings to our members. I always believe that no matter what post you take up, you will learn from the process with your active participation. It is a give and take process - for whatever you give, you will take something back in exchange for it.

For myself, I am in Human Resource Management field, responsible for staff training and development in both Hong Kong and Mainland China regions. I will demonstrate JC training methodology to our staff and make use of the skills I learnt from JC to strengthen the training function of my company. Moreover, I will display the leadership acquired from JC in my working environment.

A letter to JCI President Bruce A Rector ...

Dear JCI President Rector,

It was my great pleasure to meet with you during the forum conducted at the reception dinner on January 24, 2003. Despite a chilly evening, we had more than 70 HKJC members attended and all of us appreciated your valuable inputs and sharing about the JCI future as well as the HKJC's.

We are all exciting about your commitment in "Enhancement in JC's corporate image", "Growth in membership" and, "Advancement in website". Many of us strongly agree with you on the mentioned missions and believe that these are all critical factors to make our organisation a meaningful and an enjoyable one to the young people. With the pledge from the local chapter leaders as well as the National Officers, we shall reap, if we faith not.

During the forum, you have given us a better understanding about your views regarding some of the major problems within the HKJC locally. Years ago, young people were desperate to join JC whilst nowadays lesser young people do so. You believe that we have lost the public attention. We need to be more creative to have wild and excited ideas; to acquire media and public attention; and to let others realise how this organisation could benefit them in a way others cannot. With creative ideas and public attention, our status within the society would be enhanced and we will be able to attract talented young people to be a part of this great family.

I totally agree with your point about creative ideas and we must do something different from others; at the same time, our contributions will have to provide the greatest benefits to our members and community. Projects and activities with same purposes in the past should be reviewed and modified such that others would be inspired and have interest in our organisation. Our first priority therefore during the planning phase should always be "creative project with creative thoughts".

In addition, young people were strongly encouraged by employers to join JC to develop themselves into better persons. However this is not the case in this day and age. Your view on this is that many employers have established a complete training program for their new recruits. Moreover "trust" between employers and JC has not been kept as strong as it used to be. This is due to the fact that many newly joined members spend a large portion of their office hour on JC. Relations between employers and JC were unfortunately affected. Hence we are not acknowledged by others and thus have less interest from the public.

A vital point you made about the JC is the "value" our members would get from the membership dues they contribute to the local chapter as well as the national level. Members believe that benefits and contributions are not directly proportionate. This is certainly one of the "must" action items for the 2003 National Officers as the slogan for 2003 is "Enjoy JC, Enjoy Life". We need to make sure our members "Enjoy JC Life" and receive the underlying value of JC! In the end our members are assets to JC.

What exactly does it mean by "Our members are assets to JC"? This is indeed the point you have made several times during the forum - "Value". There is a tendency that members do not appreciate our efforts in providing great opportunities to them. They believe they can obtain the same level of training elsewhere such as their companies' training program. My thoughts are that we need to help members to develop themselves, explore their views and experience their voyage. In order to do so, we need to think about "If I were a new member, what exactly am I looking for from JC?" This question had been one of the major guidelines during my presidency for my local chapter in 2002. We need to have a clear understanding of what our members' desires and needs are. Then we will be the pioneers to obtain opportunities as much as possible for our members to grab. Members will then appreciate and treasure their lives with JC. In the end, this should lead to a longer life span with JC.

One of the discussions we had during the reception was the extension of the age limit. You expressed the view that there has not been a clear tendency whether we should raise the age limit to, as suggested of age 45. It will always be a debate between the "For" and the "Against". At this moment, a large portion of our members is aged 35 to 40 globally. Several years down the road, we will have many active members become senior members and a lesser portion of active members would be resulted.

How should we address this? My personal view on the extension of the age limit is negative. Raising the age limit is a pessimistic approach and the underlying membership problem will not be eliminated. We should all stand up as a team and make our organisation grow in a way that members appreciate their contribution to the organization and in return their contributions are highly valued and recognised.

The corporate slogan of the JCI is "Entrepreneur in Actions". This has remained as the main theme for JCI over the last several years. It is indeed a good slogan, but during the process of the recruitment of new members, many local chapter leaders have struggled that whether they should recruit real entrepreneur or else. You have shared with us the experience in the States that in the past, the recruitment process was mainly for the social purposes. No specific target market was formalised. No specific criterion was dignified. Thus a serious membership shortage resulted, as we are definitely a "learning by doing, but socialising" organisation. In respect of the credentials of one Jaycee, you suggested we should pay more attention on ambitious, innovative, and commitment to the society. These are the critical elements to make us a better organisation.

In addition to ambitious, innovative, and community to the society, I believe we should also look for young people with great courageous. With courageous, one should be able to and willing to take a great step ahead and great responsibility to serve our organisation as well as the community.

It is interesting to learn that Hamburg Junior Chamber, Germany, has a serious and formal screening process for the new recruits. Members are required to illustrate their ability, experience, enthusiasm, and commitment to the organization. In the end good quality of the members would certainly attract many good quality young potential leaders. By just completing the application form would not guarantee the end results we anticipate.

This is a very good example of an international organisation like JC. Different countries have different cultures. I like the way Hamburg Junior Chamber recruit new members and their strict admission requirements. This is really something we should consider, as our existing admission requirement is relatively slacken. Membership is always a high priority deliberation for our leaders. I understand that people might have concerns on the strict admission requirement might result in less membership in number-terms. However I strongly believe this is not the case. A tougher requirement would become a motivation to the new recruits as well as our existing members to perform their best and give their utmost to JC and the society. Should we impose a more serious admission process and members would appreciate their JC membership. Therefore lost of membership would hopefully be improved. An old saying would be self-explanatory, "Easy come, Easy go"!

In addition I believe before we look for quality new recruits, we should make sure ourselves are up to standard, well equipped for our members and well prepared to serve them.

Economy downturn is certainly one of the factors contribute to the reduction of our membership. Once again you believe that we should be able to provide full value of benefits from JC and opportunities which members would not be able to get from elsewhere. These opportunities would ensure them to be well equipped for the future challenges. We need to let our members and others have a better understanding of who we are, what we do and what we can provide them. Advancement of the website is one of the key aspect you are committed to. Extensive information about JC should be on-lined. Creative ideas are greatly encouraged to be conveyed through the Internet. One of the key successes you have achieved is Monday Morning Message; it was started in 1998 with 7 receipts and now, your messages reaches over 3,000 receipts. Young people are unquestionably benefited from your sharing and inspired.

As the JCI President, one of your main duties is to travel around the world and meet different JCs from different places. Although your visit to us only lasted for 2 days, the benefit you gave us was extremely valuable, the advice you gave us was exceptionally helpful, and the idea you shared with us was tremendously informative.

JCI President Rector, once again, we are grateful about your time and look forward to your leadership to take us to become one of the well-known organisations with great learning opportunity and enjoyable moments.

With best wishes and great success in 2003!

PROMOTING JC IMAGE AT LOCAL LEVEL

Anti - Crime Activity

Shatin Junior Chamber

It is a strategic focus for Sha Tin Junior Chamber (SJC) to build up JC Image in the Shatin District by extending more local networks. Hence, some influencing local representatives were invited as VIP guests during its inaugural ceremony on Jan 11. They were:

- Guest of Honor, Wai Kwok Hung, JP (Chairman of Shatin District Council);
- Mr. Thomas Pang (Vice-Chairman of Shatin District Council & Hon Advisor of SJC)
- Mr. Ho Kuen Fai (Chairman of Shatin Secondary Heads Association);
- Mr. David Tsang (Senior Liaison Officer of Sha Tin District Office - Home Affairs Bureau) and
- Mr. Zhang Hua (Deputy Division Chief of Liaison Office of the Central People's Government in the Hong Kong SAR).

They were impressed by the Ceremony and the speaker Senator Emily Au Yeung's talk on "How to enjoy JC life". They could have more understanding about JC activities and its purpose. As a result, Mr. Wai immediately invited President Sammy to send SJC representatives to join their activities.

Jan 22, SJC members attended the "Anti Crime Discussion Forum" with other 60 local representatives organized by Shatin District Council. They met Mr. P.C. Chan, Superintendent of The Hong Kong Police and Mr. Leung of Social Welfare Department, discussed some future cooperation for youth.

The Pathway to Success 2002

East Kowloon JC

The Pathway to Success 2002, a Leadership Enhancement Program for youth aged between 18-24, developed and delivered by East Kowloon Junior Chamber. It was successfully held on October 19-20 2002, a 2-day camp with over 50 participants. A free online registration system was used with remarkable results- over 70% of participants were registered; many thanks to Neville Ko and NVP Lau Wing Hong.

Pathway to Success is an initiation from EKJC members to help the young generation to develop themselves, set up their personal goals and build up their own confidence. The main objectives of the programme are to help young people to establish a healthier mind-set, to become more positive as well as preparing themselves to face with their challenges in life.

In 2002, we continued to have great support from our co-organizer - Commission on Youth (COY). Moreover, thanks to our hardworking OC team, we have new sponsors Temam Work Design Ltd. as well as media sponsor Hong Kong Commercial Daily.
